FIRST EDITION.

MIDNIGHT.

HARRISBURG.

CONTESTED ELECTION BILL.

No Settlement Yet.

RESTORING INLAND FISHERIES.

Compulsory Vaccination.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, February 15, 1872.

SENATE.

COMPULSORY VACCINATION.

The Speaker laid before the Senate a memorial of the Philadelphia Board of Health for universal compulsory vaccination.

RESTORING INLAND FISHERIES.

Mr. PETRIKEN introduced a resolution referring the report of the Commissioner for the restoration of inland fisheries to a select committee of five, to be instructed to carry out the recommendations therein contained as to the propagation of fish and construction of fish ladders in dams of the Juniata, Lehigh, Susquehanna and Monongahela rivers and tributaries. Adopted, and Messrs. Petriken, Purman, Dill, Warfel and Allen appointed on said committee.

CONTESTED ELECTION BILL.

The bill reported last Monday by the majority of the McClure Gray committee for the regulation of contested elections was considered and postponed for the present, when the Senate negatived Mr. Billingfelt's bill of yesterday by a tie vote, the Republicans all voting Aye and the Democrats No, the latter insisting on an amendment of the act of 1839, so as to make the time for petition to run ten days after the date of returns of the contested election.

THE M'CLURE GRAY CASE.

Afternoon Session.—The McClure-Gray discussion was continued.

Mr. BILLINGFELT moved to amend the House bill by substituting his method of selecting the seventh member of the committee, which was defeated by a tie vote, the Democrats voting no.

The Senate then refused to concur in the House bill by an almost unanimous viva voce vote.

The Republican Senators are disposed to make Mr. Billingfelt's bill their ultimatum, while the Democrats insist that an entirely new bill for the drawing of committees is uncalled for, and should alone be determined on by a Constitutional Convention.

HOUSE.

THE LIQUOR EVIL.

The bill providing against the evils of selling intoxicating liquors was made the special order for February 21st.

QUARANTINE.

The joint resolution for removing the present quarantine and establishing a joint quarantine by New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania was killed.

ENLARGED POWERS.

The bill from the Senate enlarging the powers of courts so as to grant charters was passed.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Afternoon Session.—The special order was the Constitutional Convention bill reported by Mr. White, providing for a convention next summer and the election of delegates on the 14th of May next.

Mr. ELLIOTT offered a substitute embracing the bill of last winter, but providing for an election next October, to avoid the expense of a special election, and fixing April 15th, 1873, for the meeting of the convention. Adopted, when further consideration was postponed till Wednesday.

M'CLURE GRAY BILL.

The House insisted on its amendment to the McClure Gray bill, and Messrs. White, Hewitt and Dougherty were appointed a committee of conference.

M'KEESPORT.

Fatal Accident--Boy Killed--Collision on the Connellsville Railroad --Engineer Killed.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MCKEESPORT, February 15, 1872.

Frank Mehaffey, son of Capt. James Mehaffey, aged about twelve years, in attempting to get on a passing freight train, at Riverside, this afternoon, was thrown between the cars and station and instantly killed. The body was terribly mangled.

Two trains collided to-day at Layton's station. The accident is serious. We can only learn that one engineer was killed.

SHAW.

CINCINNATI.

Steamer Belle Vernon Sunk.

CINCINNATI, January 15.—About two o'clock this morning the steamer Belle Vernon, loaded for New Orleans, lying at the mouth of Licking river, was struck by a large cake of ice and immediately sunk. She had on board four hundred tons of freight. Much of it was of a perishable character. Yesterday she was moved across the river for safety under the direction of the underwriters. The boat was worth about thirty thousand dollars, and was owned by the Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans Packet Company. The boat was fully insured; mostly in Cincinnati companies. The total loss will probably reach one hundred thousand dollars.

THE JAPANESE.

Mr. Richard Smith, Chairman of the Committee to invite the Japanese Embassy to visit Cincinnati, received the following dispatch last night:

Salt Lake, February 14.—To Richard Smith:—Many thanks from the Embassy. They will answer the invitation to visit your city from Washington. Their answer will depend upon the time at their disposal. Very respectfully,

C. E. DELONG.

NASHVILLE.

Methodist Book Concern Destroyed by Fire.

NASHVILLE, February 15.—A fire broke out at twelve o'clock last night in the book bindery of the Methodist Book Concern, and extended thence to the composing room. The materials and machinery in both departments were destroyed, together with the stereotype foundry and Dr. Summers' extensive library, containing many rare and valuable books. The bindery belonged to John Locken, of Philadelphia, and was insured. His loss is about $15,000. The loss in the composing room is $10,000; foundry, $5,000. The plates in the vault are uninjured. The damage to the presses is $3,000; to the building $3,000. The insurance on the part of the building burnt is $5,000. The materials were all injured. A large number of persons are thrown out of employment temporarily by this disaster. The origin of the fire is unknown.

DEATH OF AN EX-JOURNALIST.

Granville O. Torbett, formerly editor of the Nashville Union and American, and subsequently President of a bank in Tennessee, died here last night.

ST. LOUIS.

Railway Ticket Agents' Convention.

ST. LOUIS, February 15.—The Railway Ticket Agents' Convention adjourned this afternoon. A good deal of discussion was had on various subjects, but about the only tangible thing done was the adoption of a resolution that the so called colony rates are entirely discontinued for all parties going eastward, either in large or small numbers; regular first and second class rates shall be demanded; holders of second class tickets shall receive only the accommodation provided for second class passengers; free passes are discontinued on account of colony or emigration business; no trains to be chartered between points east of the Mississippi and points west thereof.

CONGRESS.

Naval Appropriation Bill.

The Alleged Sales of Arms to France—Sumner's Resolution Up Again—Parson Brownlow Explains.

WASHINGTON, February 15, 1872.

SENATE.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION.

Mr. BROWNLOW made a personal explanation in reply to Mr. Beck's statement in the House that he (Brownlow), while Governor of Tennessee, made the State a pandemonium; that he and other reconstruction Governors were hated and despised by the people, and seemed to find no refuge from prison except in the Senate.

Mr. Brownlow began by saying that there was a time when Mr. Beck would not have dared to put this insult upon him, lest he (Brownlow) would take Mr. Beck's overseer's whip from his hand and lay it over his back. He also said that when Beck abandoned the respectable business of hostler, and became a slave driver, he sank below the notice of all decent men.

The Vice President said this language was improper under the rule.

Mr. CHANDLER moved that Mr. Brownlow have unanimous consent to proceed.

Mr. CASSERLY asked the Vice President whether he knew of any precedent for the utterance of such language in the Senate.

The Vice President said he did recollect a serial of instances when such language had been uttered; but not, of course, in accordance with parliamentary law.

Mr. BLAIR said Mr. Brownlow's language was appropriate to the means by which he had obtained his seat, and hoped he would be allowed to proceed.

The clerk then read the explanation. It reviewed Mr. Brownlow's career as Governor of Tennessee, and asserted that his dealings with the State treasury had been strictly honest; and further said that Mr. Beck's statement that he (Brownlow) was hated and despised by the people of Tennessee was as false as hell.

In conclusion, he said he left Beck in the worst possible company; namely, with himself.

EDUCATIONAL TEST.

Mr. COLE submitted a resolution, which was agreed to, instructing the Committee on Education and Labor to inquire into the expediency of an amendment to the Constitution providing some educational test in the exercise of the electoral franchise.

SALES OF ARMS TO FRANCE.

The Senate then resumed consideration of Mr. Sumner's resolution.

Mr. HARLAN continued his explanation of the sale of arms during the Franco-Prussian war.

He claimed that there was not the slightest particle of evidence to show that our authorities were cognizant that any of the arms sold were destined for the French. As is the intimation that all the money received on account of arms sold was not paid into the Treasury, he read from the report of the Chief of Ordnance of sales of arms, and claimed that the discrepancies alleged by Mr. Sumner did not exist. In reply to an intimation that certain sales of arms had not been included in the report of the Chief of Ordnance, to support which Mr. Sumner had read an Associated Press dispatch, stating that such sales had been made, Mr. Harlan explained that no such sales were made, the bids having been rejected; and in proof of this, he produced the records of the War Department. He then reviewed in detail the preamble of Mr. Sumner's resolution, and argued that the letters and documents cited or referred to therein showed clearly that some one in the country must be in non-official and unauthorized communication with the French legation, because several of them could not have been got in any other way. He believed, therefore, that the whole proceedings had been excited by the French Government, and that its agents had been sufficienly adroit to draw into it a member of the Senate. The French Government wanted evidence to prosecute some of its own agents suspected of dishonesty, and it had been able to find some person here who was willing to aid it and ransack the records of the French legation, in the hope of finding something that could be used against his own Government. The preamble compared the records of the War Department of amounts received for arms and the French records of what had been paid by that Government. Now, the question was, where did the author of the preamble get access to the French record?

Mr. SUMNER—Why, I held that record in my hand while I spoke yesterday. It will be found in a journal of the French republic.

Mr. HARLAN — Another newspaper statement.

Mr. EDMUNDS—Here it is in the New York Sun. [Laughter.]

Mr. SUMNER—It is the report of a French official, published in a French official journal.

Mr. HARLAN—And copied into the Sun.

Mr. SUMNER—Copied into the Sun. [Laughter.]

Mr. HARLAN—Well, whether that is sufficient authority for the arraignment of a high officer of our own Government by a member of the American Senate I leave for the American people to decide.

Mr. Harlan then criticized the resolution itself, and asked why it proposed to limit the investigation to the period of the Franco-Prussian war, if the only motive was to vindicate our own Government from unjust suspicion? Again, why was the committee to ascertain who were the real parties interested? What difference did it make to our Government whether the purchasers bought for themselves or for somebody else? Whether or not, must we ascertain what sums were actually paid by the real parties in interest? The explanation was that the French Government wanted this information to be used against their own officials, and the question was, whether it was legitimate for the American Senate to lend itself to the French legation for such a purpose. If France had received any wrong at our hands, let her resort to the courts.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN said he could not vote for the preamble, and he did not see how any Senator could, and the resolution itself was wholly unnecessary. The preamble and resolution together were a very anomalous production, and if they had not been introduced by one whose patriotism he could not question (Sumner), he would be forced to believe that they were introduced in hostility to this country. The events to be investigated had occurred in 1870, and no complaint on the subject had been made by Prussia. Yet, in the absence of such complaint, or any other ground, an American Senator introduced a preamble, asserting that the good name of our Government was seriously compromised, and a resolution proposing an investigation.

Mr. Frelinghuysen reviewed the paragraphs of the preamble one by one, and argued that some of the statements quoted in it were plainly false, and that none of them furnished a foundation for the allegation that the good name of our Government was seriously compromised. The investigation must now go on, but he hoped it would be made not by the committee proposed in this resolution, because by parliamentary usage the chairman of that committee (Sumner) would be one who had already assumed in this preamble the truth of the charges to be investigated. He hoped the matter would be referred to the Committee on Investigation and Retrenchment, the committee created for the purpose of investigating.

Mr. SCHURZ addressed the Senate, and said that if any one bought large quantities of arms and ammunition during a war between two nations, the presumption was that he was purchasing the same for one of the belligerents.

A number of Senators took part in the debate, and without reaching a vote, the Senate went into executive session, and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE.

GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS.

The bill for the erection of Government buildings at Quincy, Illinois, came up in the morning hour, and on a vote by yeas and nays, was passed.

CLERKS TO COMMITTEES.

Mr. WILLARD, from the Committee on Re organization of the Civil Service, reported bills to regulate the employment and compensation of clerks to committees of the House. After some discussion the bill went over, and the House went into Committee of the Whole on the naval appropriation bill.

NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL.

Mr. SLOCUM moved to strike out the item for the Brooklyn Naval Hospital and choke off the immense cost of keeping up that establishment, and spoke of the folly of retaining land there which was worth a million of dollars. He said it would be cheaper to send every sick sailor in that hospital with an attendant physician to a Fifth avenue hotel, and keep the sailor and physician there, than it is to keep up the naval hospital. Every sick sailor costs more than a cabinet officer in Washington.

Mr. HALE was in favor of abolishing both the navy yard and hospital; but this was not a proper bill to decide that question.

Mr. BANKS opposed all sales of Government property as it became valuable, thus making the Government a miserable speculator in lands. If it became the policy of the Government to have its work done in private yards or by contract, he would not object to selling the Brooklyn yard; but at present such a course would be to the last degree unprofitable and unwise.

After further discussion, Mr. SLOCUM withdrew his motion, saying he had accomplished the object of calling attention to the subject.

A motion by Mr. HOLMAN to strike out the item for a naval establishment at Mound City, Ill., was rejected.

Mr. L. MYERS offered an amendment for supplying sailors with clothing at Government expense; but, after discussion, withdrew it, with the remark that he would introduce it as a separate bill.

Mr. HALE moved to add a new section to the bill, directing the Secretary of the Navy to sell at public sale, after being advertised, such vessels and materials as are not suitable or capable of profitable use, repair or fitting out.

Mr. WOOD suggested that no vessel should be sold except after condemnation by a board of naval officers.

Mr. MAYNARD suggested that exceptions should be made of such historical vessels as the Constitution, Macedonian, Kearsarge and the yacht America, which should be always maintained by the Government.

Mr. HALE objected to Mr. Wood's suggestion, as taking the responsibility from the Secretary of the Navy and putting it on a board of naval officers.

Mr. WOOD argued in support of his proposition, and suggested that the objection to it arose from the fear that naval officers would condemn all the vessels in the navy. The discussion on this point was continued by Messrs. Garfield and Swann against Mr. Wood's proposition.

In the course of his remarks Mr. SWANN stated that, in case of war, there were not six vessels in the navy that could be relied on, and he felt convinced that there was at present imminent danger of war.

Mr. MAYNARD offered his amendment excepting from sale all such vessels as had been eminently distinguished in the naval history of the country.

Mr. DICKEY suggested that that would include all vessels that were eminently distinguished for their incapacity. [Laughter].

Mr. BUTLER (Mass.) questioned if it was good policy and economy to sell naval vessels. They had had some experience of that kind; they had sold, for $33,000, a captured blockade runner, which had since been known as the Hornet, and it had cost the Government $150,000 to watch her and to convey her. Some of those vessels might be converted into privateers against other Governments, and put this country in the same predicament as England had been put in by the Alabama and other privateers. He would have useless vessels broken up and sold, but he would not have them sold as ships.

Mr. Maynard's amendment was rejected and Hall's was adopted.

The committee then rose and the bill was passed.

The House then adjourned.

WASHINGTON, February 15, 1872.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS AT PHILADELPHIA.

The Philadelphia delegation to-day appeared before the Committee on Public Buildings, urging an appropriation of a million dollars for the public buildings of that city.

TAX ON BEER.

Representatives of the brewers were before the Committee on Ways and Means to day, praying for a moderation of the present law and the adoption of the stamp system for taxation. There was no reduction of taxes asked.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED.

The Senate in executive session to-day confirmed the nomination of Gratiot Washburn, son of Minister Washburn, as Assistant Secretary to the legation to France, and also that of Samuel C. Wingard as United States Attorney for Washington Territory.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

The barometer will probably remain highest on Friday in the South Atlantic States, with pleasant weather; an area of low barometer move north eastward over Missouri, and southerly winds increase with threatening weather by Friday morning west of the Mississippi; a rising barometer and partially cloudy or clearing weather with cold north-west winds continue in Pennsylvania and New England; south-west winds and a rising temperatue prevail on the lower lakes. Dangerous winds are not anticipated for Thursday night, unless possibly on the western gulf.

TREASURY EMBEZZLERS.

In the Criminal Court of the District of Columbia to-day, a motion made yesterday by counsel of ex-Congressman Stokes for arrest of judgment in his case, was argued and overruled by the court. Exceptions were taken, and the case was carried on an appeal to the court in general term. This will probably throw the case over to April next. Victor Powell, the accomplice of Stokes, was sentenced by the court to pay a fine of $500 and costs, amounting to $250. The fine was paid and Powell was released from custody. Seth Johnson was released.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, February 13, 1871.

RE-ORGANIZATION OF THE NEW YORK CUSTOM HOUSE.

Plans are being considered both at the Executive Mansion and at the Treasury Department for the thorough re-organization of the New York Custom House. If apparently nothing has been done, it has been owing to the fact that the Government has been in thorough earnest, and does not wish a change of the subordinate personnel, but a change of system as well. The re-organization of a close corporation of so great magnitude is a task that requires patience, perseverence and ability of a high degree. Subordinates have been changed again and again, and nearly always for the worse. The change of the normal or ornamental collector avails nothing. The heads of the various divisions must be superceded by both trustworthy and competent men. These men are rare, because they must be persons who have performed analagous duties. It has been suggested that a number of gentlemen from the Treasury Department who are specially adapted, be sent there to break the connection between the links of the ring, and to establish greater accountability. Thus, while the public may rest assured that something will be done with reasonable speed, the re-organization of an establishment that collects two hundred millions of dollars per year, takes not only time, but will test the highest organizing capacity of the Treasury Department.

HASTY LEGISLATION.

Perhaps no better evidence of the necessity for preparing the business of Congress early in the session and giving the longest possible notice of the time of adjournment can be found than the errors committed in allowing the last small hours of a session to be used in adopting a bogus patent for lighting the gas of the Senate Chamber. Many voted for it under the impression that it was the patent of Prof. Samuel Gardiner, Capitol electrician, but is now found to be a palpable infringement of that invention. Steps have already been taken to stop the use of the machine elsewhere, and proceedings will be commenced forthwith to hold the Government in damages for violating the patent right of the inventor, Prof. Gardiner.

It is a cheap and nasty tin shop concern yet it cost $4,500, and requires extra attendance, while that of the genuine apparatus, which, for several years, has lighted the dome and House is substantially erected of capacity sufficient to light the capital from dome to cellar without any additional annual expense. This job was set up by lobbyists on a class of innocent legislators, who were induced to take interested ex parte statements, but it never could have passed, if time had been taken for consideration, as the evidence of its fraud was all the time in the office of the electrician, who knew nothing of it until too late. He has made fifteen different patents covering all its ramifications. He not only lighted the gas with electricity, and unfailing precision which the Senate fraud does so imperfectly that many of the burners must still be lighted by tramping over the ceiling of the chamber and touching them off by hand, but he also turns the gas on and off, lights and registers on a dial when the gas is on, and when lighted, and never fails to ignite all the burners. It is one of the greatest sights of the capitol to witness the electrician stand at his dial near the rotunda, and by pressing a key and turning a silver crank light more than three thousand burners in the twinkling of an eye without approaching House or Dome.

Senators, disgusted with repeated failures and the noise attending the use of the present method, who in many instances voted for it under misapprehension, propose to embrace the first opportunity of getting rid of the worthless machine, and the liability for its use at the same time, by adopting the complete Gardiner apparatus so that all the work of lighting the Capitol may be performed with certainty, without disturbing the lawful rights of an inventor or the secret sessions of the Senate at precisely the same annual expense as that incurred before the experiment was thrust upon the Senate.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

President Grant having ordered the abolition of the general order business, the New York Tribune says it never charged him with "venal motives" in regard to the matter. That paper well knew and the Democrats, who have been allowed all this time to work up a case against him for having to do with an institution of his own invention, knew all the time that President Grant never was able to appreciate the villainy of their precedent in the New York Custom House, until it was gradually unfolded through the investigation of the committee of Congress.

Vice-President Colfax has written a letter declining to be considered a candidate before the Republican Convention in opposition to President Grant. He forbids such use of his name in the convention of his own State of Indiana.

Among the reason's given for Col. Forney's resignation as Collector of the port of Philadelphia is his reasonable ambition to succeed General Cameron as Senator from Pennsylvania.

A resolution was carried in the House yesterday directing the Ways and Means Committee to report a bill repealing the duties on tea and coffee, by a vote of 140 to 37.

It seems the height of folly for the Committee of Ways and Means to hold secret sessions instead of allowing the country to know what they are doing from day to day.

SECRETARY BOUTWELL.

We apprehend that if this had not been a Presidential year the successful negotiation of the five per cent. loan would have been regarded with satisfaction by all parties. We are slow to believe that the Democratic masses are as unpatriotic as their leaders represent them by their factious course of opposition. The national credit cannot be a partizan question—every citizen being personally interested to uphold and advance it. Secretary Boutwell was successful in negotiating the late conversion under circumstances which would have discouraged a man of less perseverance, and the unanimous endorsement of his political friends was but a bare act of justice. The N. Y. Nation cannot forgive him for falsifying its prophesy of certain failure, and continues its unjust and silly course of defamation, which we regret on its own account.

WANT TO BE HEARD.

A delegation of female suffragists appeared in the reporter's gallery of the House, and presented a memorial through Mr. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, asking that they be allowed to appear at the bar of the House, in open session, on Saturday next, and make an appeal for the removal of their political disabilities. A resolution offered by Mr. Kelly was lost by 89 to 95, many of the leading Republicans and Democrats voting in the affirmative. Encouraged by this vote, the delegation announced afterwards that they intended to press their appeal until it was granted. They were greatly encouraged by the vote.

Locomotive Boiler Explosion.

New Ocean Steamship—The Stokes Trial—Chicago Relief Fund.

NEW YORK, February 15, 1872.

LOCOMOTIVE BOILER EXPLOSION.

On the night of the 13th a locomotive boiler exploded at the Susquehanna Depot on the Erie road, causing a tremendous smash-up. The locomotive which was behind the exploded one, pushing it, ran into the caboose of the train and made a complete wreck. The conductor and four other persons were in it at the time, and were all severely scalded. Patrick McCoy was killed, and on one side of the track an old man was found with two of his ribs broken and a large hole cut in one of his legs. On the other side of the track was his son, with his legs mangled. The caboose took fire, but was subsequently extinguished.

NEW STEAMSHIP.

The new steamer Republic, of the White Star Line, has arrived, and is in some respects the superior of her well-known predecessors, Oceanic, Atlantic and Baltic. She has been fitted with a light turtle deck forward, designed to keep the forecastle and flush deck dry in heavy weather, while extra boilers have been added and about five hundred horse power gained. She is proportioned and fitted more like a yacht than a merchant steamship. On her passage out the Republic experienced terrific gales, all her small boats being carried away; but the vessel behaved admirably. Several steamers which started about the same time have not yet arrived.

STOKES' TRIAL.

In the Oyer and Terminer Court this morning the evidence was continued on behalf of Stokes as to irregularities in impannelling the Grand Jury.

The District Attorney does not traverse the various allegations as to irregularities of the Grand Jury, but simply avers that they are good and lawful men, and on that issue will go to the jury.

The trial of the present issue will probably terminate to-morrow.

THE FIRE-BUG.

Ciesky, the accomplice of Jones, the Fire Bug, confessed that the latter set fire to his store on Clinton street, to another in Norris avenue, Elizabeth, N. J., to the store 100 Prince street, and to a manufactory in Eldridge street, and that he (Ciesky) received a portion of the proceeds of the insurance, except the last named, which occurred before they became partners.

CONTESTED ELECTION.

O'Donavan Rossa's petition claiming the Senatorial seat of Tweed will be laid before the Legislature to-morrow. Rossa brings testimony to show that at least 6,000 votes which were registered were in favor of his opponent and belonged by right to him.

REDUCED FARE.

The Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company has arranged to carry delegates to and from the Labor Reform Nominating Convention meeting at Columbus, Ohio, on the 21st of February, at two-thirds fare, good to the 1st of March.

RELIEF FUND.

The committee administering the Chicago relief fund of the Produce Exchange report that $39,728 were given to Chicago, $183,650 to Michigan, and $183,650 to Wisconsin sufferers, while about $4,000 remain in the Treasurer's hands.

BURGLARY.

Fifteen thousand dollars worth of silks were burglarized on Washington street this morning. The thieves succeeded in making their escape, but thirteen thousand dollars worth of the booty was recovered.

THE GENERAL ORDER SYSTEM.

Collector Arthur states that the present General Order system will be continued only until a new plan be approved, which will probably be soon; but what the change is will not be divulged at present.

THE JUMEL CASE.

Testimony was produced by the defense in the Jumel case that Betsy Brown, claimed by the plaintiff's counsel to have given birth to George Washington Bowen, was not Madame Jumel.

DAMAGES RECOVERED.

George Montgomery received $1,500 from the Pavonia Horse Car Company for injuries received a year ago when a car leaped a bank of thirty feet.

EMIGRANT SWINDLERS.

The trial of Charles Moore, emigrant swindler, was peremptorially fixed for next Monday.

PARDONED.

The President pardoned Jollin Scully, convicted of illicit distillation of whisky.

COLUMBUS.

Woman's Suffrage Convention.

COLUMBUS, February 15.—The Ohio Woman's Suffrage Convention met in the Opera House this afternoon. There was a small number in attendance. The convention was called to order by Mrs. M. M. Cole.

Mrs. Swisshelm made a short speech, expressing the hope that the convention would put itself on record so decidedly against the free love movement that it never would again be heard of in Ohio. She thought that suffrage would elevate women to a place of more usefulness than they could be without it.

The convention elected the following permanent officers: President, Mrs. M. M. Cole; Vice President, Mrs. M. V. Langley; Recording Secretary, Mrs. C. Buchwalter; and Corresponding Secretary, Miss J. O. DeForrest.

ALBANY.

Railway Accident.

ALBANY, February 15.—A train on the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad was thrown from the track at the central bridge yesterday. The engine ran across the bridge, having broken the coupling. The baggage car and first coach struck the side of the bridge and fell through. The second coach and the drawing room car remained on the track. SOMETHING NEW!!

The Metallic Barrel,

PATENTED JANUARY 16th, 1872.

No Hoops! No Staves! No Leakage!

Specially adapted for every kind of Oil, particularly the most VOLATILE COAL OIL, PETROLEUM, &c., &c.

The attention of Dealers, Refiners and Shippers of Oil in Pittsburgh and vicinity is respectfully solicited, and they are requested to examine the model of a

Metallic, or Iron Barrel,

which is perfect in all its parts, made of only

THREE PIECES OF SHEET IRON, formed in proper shape by newly invented machinery.

The value of an Iron Barrel to prevent loss of oil by Leakage and Evaporation can scarcely be estimated.

The ease and facility with which it can be handled, and the absolute security which it affords in transportation by rail or in steamboats, are essential points of advantage, which must sooner or later place it in the front rank of useful articles of trade and commerce.

The model can be seen at

Sitting Room, Monongahela House.

BONDS at Frankfort 95¼.

GOLD closed in New York on yesterday at 110½@110⅝.

WHEN the New York World begins a sentence with "The truth is," it is generally safe to place what follows in the library of modern fiction.

CHOLERA MORBUS and diarrhoea are prevailing to an alarming extent in Harrisburg, nearly all of the people suffering more or less therefrom. The water is said to be impure, thus affording cause for the distressing epidemic.

AN OLD HERESY has recently revived in Switzerland, where a certain pastor Chantre announces that he has suppressed all portions of the liturgy and doxologies which refer to the third person of the Trinity. This is by no means a new idea, but it is one which we believe has not very recently been publicly advocated.

THE INDICATIONS are clear that Ohio will at least bestow a complimentary first ballot in the Republican National Convention for the nomination of Hon. William Dennison as candidate for Vice President. The name of this distinguished gentleman has awakened no particular enthusiasm outside of his own State, and it is more than probable that after the first ballot his name will not be mentioned in the nominating convention.

SACRAMENTO, KY., has furnished another evidence of devotion to Judge Lynch, by hanging, without the shadow of trial, a supposed incendiary. It had been hoped that the mistaken judgment which sent three innocent colored men into eternity in the same way, a short time ago in Indiana, might have good effect in putting a stop to Lynch law, but it appears that method of dispensing Justice is deeply gounded in the hearts of some people in particular sections.

THE TRIAL OF STOKES for the murder of James Fisk, Jr., is now in progress in New York. The line of defense is not yet developed, but it is to be presumed that an attempt will be made to show that Fisk and his coadjutors attempted to crush the defendant by a conspiracy against his honor and liberty, by way of punishment for his course in the Mansfield scandal. It is not improbable that the murderer will escape the extreme punishment due the enormity of his offense.

TILTON'S paper, the Golden Age, is anxious that Frederick Douglass should be elected Vice President of the United States, because, being colored, he is a direct representative of the colored race, and because, being an able and great man, he is an equally good representative of the whole country. The first part of the proposition is undoubted, but when it comes to the second, we must hesitate—not because we question Mr. Douglass' ability and greatness, but because we are by no means sure that those are representative attributes of the people.

MR. THOMAS HUGHES stated the whole English complaint against our case, when he wrote that "if Great Britain allows the issues raised by the United States to go before the Arbitrators, she puts it in their power to fine her in almost any amount." This is the whole trouble. The Commissioners may find that our entire claim—consequential damages, and all—is just; and this might amount to a sum sufficiently large as to cripple seriously the revenues of the British crown. The present, is not the proper time to consider that question. It should have been thought of at the time the English vessels were being prepared for sea.

AFTER A HARD STRUGGLE against pride and bigotry, the august Constitutional Convention of West Virginia resolved to give the right of suffrage to the colored people of the State, and to continue the ballot as the method of election. Inasmuch as that same body concluded, after mature deliberation, to remain one of the United States, it deserves little thanks for confirming the right to vote on negroes, as the constitution of the land grants them the privilege anyhow. We entertain hope that the crazy patriots in conclave together at Charleston may yet return to sanity. They have not only thus far degraded their State in outside estimation, but have attached to themselves much ridicule through their indiscreet debates and heavy nonsense.

THE Cape Standard and Mail of the 19th of January says that Dr. Kirk has received letters from Dr. Livingstone, who is alive and well and enjoying all the luxuries of Ujiji. This is more than we had hoped for, more even than we had any established right to expect. It is enough to have letters from him, enough to hear of his life and health, but it is almost too much felicity to think that he has reached Ujiji, a place that is harder to get into than the beautiful bowers in the midst of those labyrinthine games, traced out on card board, with which children used to be amused. We shall refuse to believe that the Dr. has done any more than approach pretty near the argus-like town, until he has been captured and brought home, and has said so over his own signature.

MAYOR HALL, of New York, who sees his way through to a final acquittal on the charges of fraud preferred against him, announces his intention to institute proceedings for damages in libel against the New York Times. That journal may have been mistaken somewhat in dealing with his name in connection with the irregularities of the municipal government of New York, but throughout its entire course, in the exposure of fraud and corruption, it has in the main been correct. It has broken the Tammany ring into fragments, displayed its own fearlessness and honesty, and conferred inestimable benefits on the tax-payers of the metropolis. In view of all these good things it has accomplished, it would seem strange that any jury could be found willing to award Mayor Hall any considerable damages in a suit for libel. If he is an innocent man, he certainly kept bad company.

SENATOR WHITE, who did not "fear," to use his own braggadocio, to oppose the amended libel law introduced by Senator Graham, will find that the press, to the services of which he is indebted for any position he now occupies in the politics of the State, cannot meekly swallow his opposition to its claims for simple justice at the hands of law-makers. Our good-natured contemporary, the Chronicle, yesterday made use of the following pointed language in referring to him:

> Senator White, who is in favor of perpetuating the present iniquitous libel law, desires to be Governor of this State.
> The newspaper that supports him deserves to be bankrupted by libel suits. If newspapers do not make this a test question, let them quietly wear the yoke, and pay whatever any sneaking rascal, supported by lawyers, chooses to demand of them as the penalty for telling the truth when it ought to be told.

The United Presbyterian, in a severe article on the Legislature for refusing to pass the amended law, says in regard to Gen. White's action:

"He is a candidate for the Republican nomination to the gubernatorial chair, and whatever may be his other qualifications, we are fully convinced that his treatment of this bill will not be considered an additional recommendation by this State."

CONGRESS manifests a liberality in the direction of providing suitable public buildings at various points needed in the transaction of the business of the United States. The policy is a correct one. If such buildings are necessary, it is no wise economy that will prevent their erection, simply because a draw must be made for the purpose on the public purse. Pennsylvania has suffered more than any other State from the penny wise and pound foolish policy that has hitherto marked the Government in this direction. Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburgh all are sorely in need of proper government buildings, and should be supplied with them at once, no matter what may be the immediate cost. We do not oppose any other city now clamoring for new and proper government buildings, knowing the hardships to which our own is subjected for the want of them. There is no reason whatever for the United States to be niggardly and mean in the matter, for the money expended on such structures is not lost or wasted, but as simple investments will pay in the end. While other delegations are looking out for the interests of their States, let ours unitedly press on the attention of Congress the wants in this line of the three great cities of Pennsylvania.

PENDING the question of an equalization of the valuation, for the purpose of taxation, of the old city and rural real estate embraced in consolidation, the Post makes the point that assessments all around are much too low. It would be naturally advantageous to all tax payers if the work of assessment should be revised from beginning to end in all the wards as thus the basis of taxation would be rendered fair and equitable. The following transcript, taken from the City Assessor's books by our contemporary, exhibits the fact that at least some valuations of real estate in the old wards are fearfully below a correct estimate of the real value. The property is all familiar to city readers:

MR. SUMNER has rendered much good service to his countrymen, to the Government, and to the Republican party. He was the boldest and most effective champion of freedom for the black race, that ever stood up in the Senate of the United States. He has been a firm and true adherent to the cause of Republicanism, since the date of the party's birth. Although eccentric in his manner, obstinate in his will, and radical in the advocacy of his sentiments upon all subjects, he has ever been recognized as a power by the party, and a true patriot by the whole nation. Boys of fifteen and twenty years ago were charmed in their school days by his polished rhetoric, and convinced of the correctness of his principles by his unanswerable argument. Those boys are now men, grown to maturity, and they still love the name of Charles Sumner, and believe him pure of purpose, exalted above his political peers in intellect, and animated by a holy conviction of rectitude, and a primary allegiance to the best interests of his country.

It is difficult for such persons to understand his recent movement to stir up the old troubles which threatened to grow out of our sales of arms, to one or other of the belligerents in the late European war. It is impossible to imagine any good to the country flowing from such a subject; it is possible to foresee much harm. Can the honorable Senator truly hope to serve his country by stirring up unnecessary questions which are well calculated to excite the passions of enemies, and disturb the peaceful harmony of friends? Can he hope to do good by throwing fire-brands into the ranks of the party? We are unable to understand this latest effort, particularly since the whole subject was investigated and fully discussed in Congress some time ago. We can understand Mr. Sumner's enmity (?) for the President, although he denies that enmity is the word to express his feelings. His near friend, Motley, was badly treated, if his version of the matter can be believed. But even this, and much more animosity against the President, is no justification of an attempt to break in twain the noble party which has seconded and given victory to his every effort in the cause of freedom and human progress in the past, and promises to accomplish so much in the future.

Copper and the Tariff.

We stated on the 8th inst. the fact that three or four companies were making money by mining copper on Lake Superior, that "these facts have of late turned attention to copper-mining;" which, as is well known, has not generally proved profitable. Of all the Copper mines yet opened in this country, at least nine-tenths have involved their owners in losses, though the one-tenth has resulted in gain. We hope and trust that, with a riper experience, a fuller knowledge of the laws of mineral formation, and greatly improved facilities of intercommunication, this proportion will gradually be reversed, so that profit in copper-mining will be the rule, loss the exception, and that (as we said before) "In time, Lake Superior will lead the Copper product of the world."

The World, concealing from its readers all the facts but those which set forth the exceptional success in Copper-mining, says:

"With these facts before us, it is only necessary to say that the tariff charges a duty of five cents, gold, per pound on ingot Copper. The present price of ingot Copper in London is about 21 cents, gold, per pound. Were Copper free, it could be laid down in New York and sold at a profit of 24½ to 25 cents, currency. Yet our importation of ingot Copper last year was only 3,316 pounds, valued at $491, from which we derived $165.80 revenue. This fact proves that the Copper duty is not a revenue measure, while the Tribune proves that our Copper monopolists make 16 cents per pound profit on their product. We therefore ask upon what grounds the Tribune can uphold the present Copper duty, especially when that journal asserts that Copper, which costs in England 21 cents, gold, can be produced at 12 cents, currency, a pound, in the United States? Not even the General Order monopolists, nor yet the Custom-house spies, have more forcibly convicted themselves out of their own mouths than has the Tribune shown itself guilty of folly or knavery, or both, for upholding the Copper duty."

Answer by The Tribune.

We uphold the Copper duty because we would encourage and incite more and more of our countrymen—Republicans or Democrats, Protectionists or Free Traders, we care not which—to engage in mining Copper, until our mines shall have been so developed, our knowledge of the business so enlarged, and our processes so perfected, that we shall mine all the Copper we need, and mine it cheaper from our own soil than we can buy it from abroad. This is our policy, as the World ought by this time to know. Our former statement set forth the fact that the profits realized by a few exceptionally fortunate companies had attracted attention and incited a new and lively interest in Copper mining, in spite of by-gone disappointment and losses.

This is just what we sought when we supported the Copper Tariff. The fact that one-tenth of those hitherto engaged in Copper-mining have made money by it is of public importance only as it attracts others to embark in that field, by affording reason for hope that they may succeed in it. We heartily wish that one hundred Copper-mining companies might, before the close of the year, achieve a success equal to that of the companies we have named; for we should recognize in that success an assurance of cheap copper at hand and an important addition to our National sources of wealth.

And now, will the World be equally frank with us? Copper, it says, is worth 21 cents per pound in England (where it is mainly smelted from the ore); our duty on it is 5 cents per pound—less than twenty-five per cent. of its foreign cost. Does the World seek a total abolition of our tariff and a support of Government by direct internal taxation alone? Does it wish our tariff so framed as to discriminate against home production? or does it simply rail at every duty, high or low, without meaning anything in particular? —N. Y. Tribune.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

A FEW months ago, the Chief Justice of India, Norman, was assassinated by a Mohammedan fanatic named Abdallah. The murderer was caught, tried, and sentenced to expiate his crime by death on the gallows. He seemed ready to meet his doom calmly and bravely; and British ingenuity, longing to terrify the apparently dauntless mind, hit on the cold-blooded expedient of burning the body after life had fled. According to Abdallah's belief, this killed soul as well as body, and he died in abject terror, to the great delight of his executioners. The English press upheld the deed. "We have found the Achilles' heel in the panoply of fanaticism," said a leading journal: "we have put an end to the assassin's trade forever. No bigot will imagine it to be his duty to slay an Englishman, when destruction not only of the body, but (as he thinks) of the soul, is sure to follow the crime." The prophet was short sighted. The burning of Abdallah may have terrified him, but not his fellows. His death has been speedily and terribly avenged. The Governor General of India, Lord Mayo, was stabbed, on the 8th inst., by a Mohammedan, and died almost instantly. The criminal is in the hands of the authorities. The next question will be, of course, his punishment. Will they make a new attempt to "find the Achilles' heel in the panoply of fanaticism?" One man has been hanged and the dead body burnt, within a week, fifty others have been blown to the four winds from cannon-mouths; if these plans have failed, the auto da fe of Spain yet remains. It is only a step farther. The plea of necessity, which has excused all judicial barbarism hitherto, may be used to justify this also.

THE Jews of Bombay, as well as those of Jerusalem, held a prayer meeting for the recovery of the Prince of Wales, and the Mohammedans of the same city assembled on the same day in a mosque, to the number of a thousand, and, after the usual Ramazan prayers, offered a special prayer for the speedy restoration of His Royal Highness to health. And, not to be outdone in their loyal devotion, the Parsees of Bombay also met at a fire temple, and listened to an address from Dustoor Jamaspjee, the high priest, on the benefits of Her Majesty's direct sway over India. "The address concluded," says the Indian Mirror, "with an eloquent peroration, beseeching Divine grace to be showered on the head of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, so that he may be spared, in response to the united prayers offered by millions of hearts in his behalf. The Dustoor mentioned two or three appropriate prayers in the original Zend language, in saying which the whole assembly joined. A special prayer, prepared in Guzeratee by the Dustoor of the fire temple, was then read aloud, and printed hand bills containing it were freely distributed. The vast congregation then proceeded in a procession along the Queen's Road to the seashore, where other appropriate prayers were said." These remarkable occurrences afford a new proof of the sympathy of religions, and furnish a new prophecy of the coming reign of universal brotherhood.

THE Chicago Evening Post says: All the indications are that the spring freshets will be of an extraordinary volume and violence, and travelers coming from the north, centre and west are of opinion that whole villages are likely to be swept away. Happily, the people of many isolated settlements have anticipated the danger, and are preparing for it. The unusual depth of the snow-fall throughout the West has not only resulted in the serious disarrangement of trade by the blockade of the Pacific railroads, but its coming so late in the season will insure immense destruction in the inevitably early thaw. Mississippi valley railroads will need to look sharply for floating rails; and the entire West, wherever the January snows fell with average depth should assume the defensive against the floods before the attack becomes too imminent. The only classes likely to be benefited by the probabilities of the season are the Michigan and Wisconsin lumbermen. Reports from both these States indicate that unusual industry has prevailed throughout the winter, and the supply of lumber for the spring trade will fully compensate for the annual demand of the past three months.

A CORRESPONDENT, writing from St. Petersburg says: Rustem Bey, the Turkish ambassador, has been nearly killed by a bear while hunting. The bear approached him, and instead of waiting until the animal was quite near, the Turk fired at too great a distance, and if he hit the creature at all, failed to wound him; the bear then rushed towards his assailant. Rustem Bey attacked him with his knife, and in doing so fell, whereupon the bear first siezed and tried to eat his foot, but the long snow shoes did not prove a dainty morsel. So Bruin seized upon his hand and mangled it and the arm very badly, and was just turning his attention to the ambassador's handsome face when the servant of the Prussian Secretary came to the rescue, and being a good shot hit the creature in a vital point, and he fell dead by the side of his victim, who was picked up quite unconscious, and has been confined to his room ever since. Every one has been to see him, even the ladies, to whom he is always so kind and gallant.

THE New York Citizen has put on a new theatrical critic, who thus begins a notice of the "Black Crook:" Where now is the erstwhile glad frondescence of your garish grottoes, the flammivomous effulgence of your Hades, the fluviatic mockery of your copper bottomed lakes, the impermeable cotton of your osciliating foam, or the flocculent florescence of your glowing muslin roses? And where, indeed the horrors of your delirious, vasty deep, the splendor of your apoplectic rainbow, the diaphonous abundance of your tissue paper skies, the illecebrous nictitation of your willowy prostrate vestals on their mossy banks of baise?" There has been no response to these interrogatories—even echo is knocked speechless.

THE N. Y. Times says: The knees of the Missouri bolters show early signs of trembling. It is already announced that the Cincinnati gathering, which was to have been called nearly a month before the Republican Convention, and was to be the means of deterring the latter from renominating President Grant, has been postponed until June. Instead of defiantly forcing a split, the malcontents are glad to keep under cover till they see whether a split will not be made ready to their hands in the regular Convention. They will take no more by their latter move than by the first one.

THE Louisville Courier-Journal says: The accomplished editor of the Franklin Herald assures us that "no jeering skeleton mocks him from the battlements of melancholy's lofty peak." We are sincerely rejoiced to hear it. A painful apprehension has long pervaded the public mind, both in this country and in Europe, that that was what was the matter with him.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

What Some of the English Papers Say.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS SAID TO BE ORGANIZED JOBBERY.

[From the Pall Mall Gazette of Jan. 26.]

The American claims against England excite more and more attention every day; and we may safely predict that unless the Government take a direct course in dealing with those claims a direct course will be taken with the Government. Popular opinion is capable of going to great lengths in matters of this kind; and its drift, if not its full volume, is manifest already. To-day, however, we have no intention of discussing the scope or the validity of the claims. That we leave to another occasion; but there is one circumstance therewith connected, which deserves special notice. We know by recent exposures how desperately venal, how prone to auducious organized jobbery are too many American legislators and officers of State—even among the higher and more influential grades. Now it is a matter of common rumor that men of this kind have bought up the "American claims generally known as Alabama Claims," right and left. From all that we know of political life in the United States there is nothing at all improbable in these reports—on the contrary, the probability is that they are true. But if so, then we may infer that the American case is regarded as a pretty strong one on the other side of the Atlantic, and that it has become the interest of a certain number of public men to support it to the utmost.

ARBITRATION ON TRIAL—BAD FAITH ASCRIBED TO THE UNITED STATES.

[From the Manchester Guardian, Jan. 24.]

At the present moment international arbitration is receiving at Geneva its first important trial. The issue of this trial is assumed by Mr. Richard, M. P., and his followers to be in no way doubtful. With the beautiful faith which all along has supported them, and which cannot fail to command the admiration of all but the most cynical, they at once assume that these facts must obligingly tally with their own wishes. "The sufficiency of the principle of international arbitration," they inform us, "has been nobly illustrated by the Treaty of Washington." It would be agreeable to share in this prophetic assurance, but on the whole it may be wiser not to count our chickens before they are hatched. It is useless to disguise the fact that the monstrous claims advanced by the United States have in some degree endangered the success of the pending negotiations. Even should they, as we cannot but believe, prove but wind bags, which it will be the first care of the arbitrators to prick, they yet furnish an example of unfairness and attempted over-reaching, if not of actual bad faith, so flagrant as to constitute an evil omen both for the present negotiations and for the principle on which they rest. These negotiations all Europe is watching with the utmost interest; and should they prove successful, such an example will assuredly not be wasted. Meanwhile, we may spare ourselves the pains of endeavoring to force on wholesale charges which, if they are to come at all, must necessarily come gradually; and, so far as the Treaty of Washington is concerned, we shall best consult our own dignity by not crying till we are out of the wood.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

LATERAL OR BARK GRAFT.

Take a sharp budding or two-edged knife, insert it between the bark and the fiber (or wood), cut your graft slanting on both sides, insert it as far as the slant goes, cover the wound with a little grafting wax, and you may make limbs start all over the body of your tree; but it is necessary to reduce or trim the upper limbs so as to make the sap take hold of your grafts. Grafts should never have more than five, nor less than three, buds exposed in all cases of grafting. For the terminal, rather stout scions are the best. The grafts taken from the top of a tree are much preferable to those taken from side limbs. The graft should be less advanced than the stock. The latter part of February till the middle of March is the best time for grafting—too late the tree bleeds; too soon, the sap is not starting, and the cohesion, or soldering, of graft, is delayed or retarded too long.—Farmer and Gardener.

THE PARTRIDGE THE AGRICULTURIST'S FRIEND.

At a meeting of horticulturists in Illinois strong ground was taken against the destruction of these birds. To show how useful this bird is it was stated that a flock of partridges were seen running along the rows of corn just sprouting, and seeing them engaged in something which was believed to be pulling up the young plants, one of them was killed and its "crop" examined, which was found to contain a cutworm, twenty-one striped bugs, and over one hundred chinch bugs. Another member related that he had adopted measures to protect the bird, and that they had become so numerous and so tame that hundreds of them, after snow falls, could be seen in his barnyard with the fowls where they were fed. As a result of their presence upon his premises his wheat crops were unusually abundant, while in many other places not far off the chinch bug and other insects had destroyed half the crop.

TRANSPLANTING EVERGREENS.

Many persons, even in this day of progress, imagine that in the transplanting of evergreens it is much safer and more certain of successful results to connect with each tree a ball of earth, and hence many novices yet continue to expend labor and time, unnecessarily, in mid-winter, transplanting evergreens with large frozen balls of earth attached. All this belongs to old time ignorance, causing a great amount of useless labor without ensuring any additional success. For years we have removed evergreen trees, varying in size from two up to thirty feet high, at any time from early April to the last of June, and then again from the first of September to the last of October, and our practice has been to pay little or no attention to the ball, but in digging the tree to save as many of the roots as possible, and never to permit them to become dry. All that needs primarily to ensure successful transplanting of evergreens is to keep the roots all the time moist. One hour of full exposure to a drying wind is almost certain death, as all the roots of evergreens have upon their surface a resinous compound, readily dried by the atmosphere, and when once dried, insoluable in water. Remember, then, ye who transplant evergreens, that the great secret of success—aside from the systematic process of labor belonging to the transplanting of any tree—lies in never permitting the roots to become dry or exposed an hour to drying wind or sun.

RECIPES.

We find the following receipts in the Cleveland Herald:

Stewed Figs.—Put into a stewpan, four ounces of sugar, the thin rind of a large lemon, and one pint of cold water. When the sugar is dissolved add one pound of best figs, and place the pan on a stove so that the fruit may swell gently and stew very slowly. When quite tender, add the strained juice of two lemons. Arrange in a glass dish, and serve cold.

Brown Bread.—Set your sponge as for common bread. Put to soak your stale dry bread, corn bread, bits of cakes, etc., which you may happen to have on hand. Use one quart of soaked bread, etc., scald one pint of corn meal and mix with the bread; then add to this mixture, one pint of molasses; add your sponge already prepared and thickened with flour, nearly to the consistency of white bread.

Onions a La Creme.—Peel and boil some middle-sized onions in salt and water till quite tender, drain them, and throw them into a stew-pan with one ounce of butter rolled in flour; shake them round till the butter is quite disolved; add a tea-spoonful each of salt and as much white pepper, and then stir in by degrees as much cream as will nearly cover them. Shake the pan around until it is on the point of boiling, then serve it.

Ham Toast.—Chop some lean ham, put in a pan, with a little peper, a lump of butter and two eggs beaten; when well warmed, spread it on buttered toast, and then serve.

Quickly Made Fruit Cake.—Take three eggs, 1 cup of sour cream, 1 cup of butter, 4 cups of flour, 2½ cups raisins chopped fine, 2 cups of brown sugar, 1 teaspoon of soda, 1 of cloves, and 1 of cinnamon. Bake slowly.

Straws.—Nearly a quart of flour, in which mix well two teaspoonsfuls of baking powder, in this cut finely a piece of butter the size of an egg; break three eggs in, and add two cups of sugar—one cup of milk. Cut them about as thick as doughnuts and fry them in butter.

A PARIS correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says: "The misery which reigns among the families of the Communists who were shot or who are in prison is heartrending, and there is great difficulty in alleviating the sufferings of these unfortunate women and children, many of whom are innocent of all participation in the recent revolution by either word or deed. Charitable foreigners encounter serious obstacles in their efforts to relieve distress. I heard this morning of a gentleman finding sixteen children and three women in a hovel at Belleville, with only one dish, and nothing to put on it till he gave them money sent from England and America."

JOHN BURNS.

[From a Poem by Bret Harte.]

Have you heard the story that gossips tell
Of Burns at Gettysburg?—No? Ah, well:
Brief is the glory that hero earns,
Briefer the story of poor John Burns;
He was the fellow who won renown,—
The only man who didn't back down
When the Rebels rode through his native town;
But held his own in the fight next day,
When all his townfolk ran away.
That was in July, sixty-three,
The very day that General Lee,
Flower of Southern chivalry,
Baffled and beaten, backward reeled
From a stubborn Meade and a barren field.

* * * * * * *

Just where the tide of battle turns,
Erect and lonely stood old John Burns.
How do you think the man was dressed?
He wore an ancient long buff vest,
Yellow as saffron—but his best;
And buttoned over his manly breast
Was a bright blue coat, with a rolling collar,
And large gilt buttons—size of a dollar—
With tails that the country folks called "swaller."
He wore a broad-brimmed, bell-crowned hat,
White as the locks on which it sat.
Never had such a sight been seen
For forty years on the village green,
Since old John Burns was a country beau,
And went to the "quiltings" long ago.
Close at his elbows all that day,
Veterans of the Peninsula,
Sunburnt and bearded, charged away;
And stripplings, downy of lip and chin—
Clerks that the Home Guard mustered in—
Glanced, as they passed at the hat he wore,
Then at the rifle his right hand bore;
And hailed him, from out their youthful lore,
With scraps of a slangy repertoire;
"How are you, White Hat?" "Put her through!"
"Your head's level," and "Bully for you!"
Called him "Daddy"—begged he'd disclose
The name of the tailor who made his clothes,
And what was the value he set on those;
While Burns, unmindful of jeer or scoff,
Stood there picking the Rebels off—
With his long brown rifle, and bell-crown hat,
And the swallow-tails they were laughing at.

'Twas but a moment, for that respect
Which clothes all courage their voices checked;
And something the wildest could understand
Spake in the old man's strong right hand;
And his corded throat, and lurking frown
Of his eyebrows under his old bell-crown;
Until, as they gazed, there crept an awe
Through the ranks in whispers, and some men saw,
In the antique vestments and long white hair,
The Past of the Nation in battle there;
And some of the soldiers since declare
That the gleam of his old white hat afar,
Like the crested plume of the brave Navarre,
That day was their oriflamme of war.

So raged the battle. You know the rest;
How the Rebels, beaten and backward pressed,
Broke at the final charge and ran.
At which John Burns—a practical man—
Shouldered his rifle, unbent his brows,
And then went back to his bees and cows.

RUPTURE TRUSSES.

Every one who may be afflicted with rupture of the bowels ought to wear a properly fitting truss, to secure them from the danger of strangulated rupture, that is, when the rupture comes down so that it cannot be returned. Strangulated rupture is a fearful condition, and one which need never occur if those who are ruptured were to wear a truss with sufficient power to remove the protrusion.

There are hundreds of people who have rupture who do not seem to be aware of it nor of the attendant danger which it involves.

Every case of rupture can be relieved and many of them cured by timely attention. This is the time of year when such things show themselves, owing to the relaxation of the system incident to the changes of climate. Dr. Keyser, at his office, 167 Liberty street, is supplied with trusses and has them to suit every age and condition and at all prices.

CAUTION.

The efficacy of PANCREATIC EMULSION and PANCREATINE and its preparations in the treatment of Consumption, Indigestion and Wasting Diseases, depending entirely upon their purity and strength, Messrs. Savory & Moore caution the public against inferior preparations, which are calculated to cause disappointment and to injure the reputation these medicines have acquired. Purchasers should see that each bottle has the names of Savory & Moore and their trade mark.
Sold in Pittsburgh only at

ALL THE YEAR AROUND,

And in all parts of the world, the elements of disease are present in the air, the soil and the water, in a greater or less degree, and therefore the Great Vegetable Antidote to these invisible enemies of health, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is invaluable as a household medicine at all seasons and in every latitude. At no period of the year is a regulating and corrective medicine more needed than toward the close of winter, when the sun and rain are beginning to break up the winter blockade, and from the softening soil arises that terrible miasma, which weighs like an incubus upon the vital machinery, and depresses the animal spirits. It is then that the seeds of intermittent and remittent fevers, of rheumatism and rheumatic gout, of obstinate stomach complaints of disorders of the liver and bowels, and a whole host of pulmonary and nervous complaints are sown.

The best, the surest way to prevent this disastrous seeding is to invigorate and refresh the system with a course of the Bitters. If this precaution be taken now, there will be no danger of the miasmatic germs taking root in the fluids and tissues of the body, and bringing forth terrible fruit in the spring. Now is the time for prevention. Remember that vigor is the only safeguard against the virus of disease, and that Hostetter's Bitters is the purest, the safest, the most powerful and perfect invigorant ever administered, either as a protective medicine or a remedy. A change of season approaches which almost always proves more or less disastrous to persons of a weak, nervous organization. Brace up at once with the leading Tonic of the age. Purge from the blood all morbid matter, strengthen the nerves, and regulate and purify the secretions with the Vegetable Elixir, which combines the juices of the finest medicinal roots, herbs and barks, with the most wholesome of all diffusible stimulants.

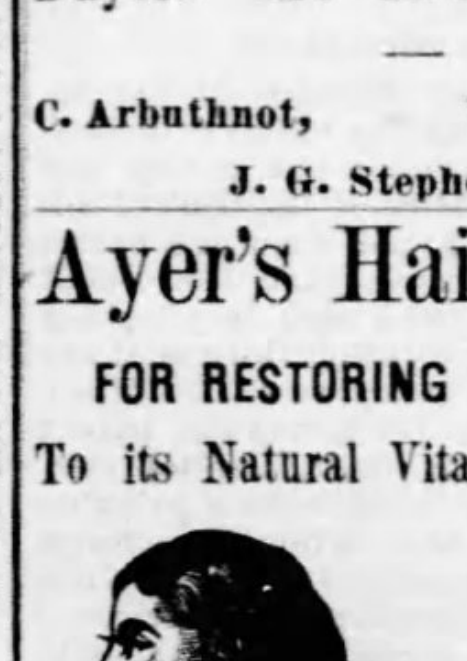
Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
To its Natural Vitality and Color.



Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray: either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of women and men. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair it has no superior.

—The Baltimore Sun, in referring to the suspension of Brune & Son, says that it "will be deeply regretted, and regarded as a misfortune not only to themselves but the community. The house is said to be of some seventy or more years' standing, having been established in early life by the late F. W. Brune, who died at a venerable age, and continued by his sons, the late John C. Brune and Wm. H. Brune, the latter the present head of the house. The firm was engaged largely in the Cuba trade, their importations of and dealings in sugars and other commodities of that island having of late years characterized their operations. They had long been the agents of the Maryland Sugar Refining Company, of this city. Mr. Wm. H. Brune was the President of that company for some time past, but resigned the position on the 9th inst., when Mr. Geo. A. Von Lingen was elected to succeed him, and the firm of A. Schumacher & Co. appointed agents of the company. The suspension of the firm of Brune & Sons does not, in any way, affect the refinery company. The obligations of the house are said to be in the neighborhood of some $300,000, the bulk of it due to Cuban parties, and about $70,000 to parties in this city."

NEW YORK, February 15, 1872.

Gold strong at 110¼@110¾. Loans were from 1 to 6 per cent. for carrying. Clearances $37,000,000. Governments stronger at the close, with a good investment demand here, and foreign bankers are buying in a quiet way. The offers of 5-20 bonds to the Government to-day amounted to $3,170,950, at from 108.73 to 110.90; awards $1,000,000 at from 109.95 to 109.39. The stock market this morning was alternately weak and firm, but intensely dull. In the afternoon there was a heavy feeling, and prices declined. The market at the close was weakened by Union Pacific, which declined to 32¾, the lowest point of the day. The Post says the stock market continues heavy for the general list on a report that the bear clique are about to lock up legal tenders. The dealings in Hannibal and St. Joseph have been large, 6,700 shares having been bought in under the rule, with price on these purchases ranging from 43¾ to 47. If the holders of this stock should combine, there would be no difficulty in cornering it, if, as report says, 50,000 shares, or the amount of the new issue, have already been sold, in anticipation that deliveries could be made with new stock. The Governing Committee of the Stock Exchange last evening decided that the new stock of the Hannibal & St. Joseph Railroad will not be a good delivery for thirty days from the 13th inst. An Albany dispatch says that the charges preferred against the Pacific Mail Company are decided by the Committee of Commerce and Navigation as not proven. They found them to have been instituted purely for speculative purposes, and they condemn the authors of the complaint. Money easy at 6@7. Southern State securities on last call were firmer in new South Carolinas, and steady in other bonds.

Sterling exchange 109¾.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, February 15, 1872.

APPLES—For best grades there is a good demand and that too at full prices, but common stock is slow. Sales of the former at $4@5 and the latter at $3@3,50. Receipts comparatively light.

ASHES—More active and for some kinds prices are higher. We now quote Common Soda Ash, 4¾; refined do, 5; Nitrate Soda, 5¾; Pots, 10; Pearls, 10¾@11.

APPLE BUTTER—Common to fair 50@55 cts per gallon, prime to choice, 60@65.

BUTTER—Is in better supply, the arrivals for some days past having been large, but prices are unchanged. Prime to choice roll, 25@28; medium to good, 20@23; inferior to common, 10@15.

BEANS—Firmer the supply being considerably reduced but prices are unchanged, $2@2,50 per bushel, according to quality.

BROOM CORN—Continues dull and neglected and we continue to quote nominally at 7@10 cts. An early improvement in the demand is anticipated.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is quiet and unchanged at 4 cts per lb.

CRANBERRIES—Quoted all the way from $10 to $17 per bbl, according to quality.

CANDLES—Mould, 12 cts; Star, 21.

CANNED GOODS—Peaches, $6,50@7,00 per case; Tomatoes, $4,25@4,50; Winslow's Corn, $5,25@5,50.

CHEESE—Is firmer and the demand is improving though prices are not quotably higher. May be quoted in a jobbing way at 16¾@17 for Goshen; 15@16 for Factory and 14@14½ for Dairy. We are reported sales of some 600 boxes Goshen, to the trade, at 15.

CARBON OIL—Is quiet and dull though prices are nominally unchanged. Standard brands 20¾@21 by the car load and 2@3 cents more for smaller lots.

COUNTRY LARD—Is coming in pretty freely and stocks are accumulating; sales in a jobbing way at 8@8¾.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$6 per case.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches: 10@10½ for halves; 8@8½ for mixed; 7@7½ for quarters and 15@20 for peeled. Blackberries, 13@15 cts. Pitted cherries, 25@30 cts; unpitted, 8@10. Apples, 6½@7½ for common to fair and 8@8½ for prime to choice.

EGGS—There was an increased demand today and with reduced stocks the market is considerably firmer and we advance our quotations on fresh to 28 cts—caused mainly by the cold weather.

FLOUR—The market continues firm not only here but all over the country, and the indications at present point to higher prices—the New York market has been active and strong for some days past, notwithstanding there does not seem to be much inquiry for export. We continue to quote in a jobbing way at $7,25@7,50 for fair to good spring wheat, and $7,75 for choice; and $7,50@8 for good to choice red winter wheat: it is probable that spring wheat flours will be advanced 25 cts per bbl within the next few days. Rye Flour, $5,50.

GRAIN—The mills have been receiving considerable Wheat within the past few days, but there is no stock in the hands of dealers; prices are firm but unchanged, $1,55@1,60 for red, and $1,60@1,65 for white, according to quality. It is reported that stocks in the sections of country tributary to this market are pretty well reduced, and this is giving strength to the belief that wheat is likely to rule high during the balance of the season, or until the new crop is ready. Oats, in better supply, the arrivals having been considerably larger during the past few days, but, with a steady demand, prices are maintained; 50@51 by the car load, and 53@55 in a jobbing way. Shelled Corn is in fair supply and quiet; 58@60 on track, and 62 in elevator. The stock of Ear Corn is comparatively light and the feeling is a little stronger, though the inquiry is mainly for small lots; sales at 60@61. Rye is quiet and unchanged, 93@95 buying, and 98@$1 selling. Barley continues irregular; spring, 70@80; and fall, 80@90, according to quality.

GROCERIES—Coffees are still reported firm in the east, though trade is sluggish and has been so for some days; this, as we noted the other day, is accounted for by the fact that jobbers all over the country are pretty well stocked, having purchased largely in January. The proposed doing away with the duty has unsettled trade somewhat, though this will be of short duration, as, even if the act should be passed, it is not likely that it will go into effect until the stocks in second hands are pretty well reduced. The stock in first hands, as reported by Wm. Scott & Sons, is 107,640 bags, as follows: Galveston, 4,200 bags; Savannah, 2,900; Baltimore, 18,944; New York, 81,586. Sugars, Molasses and Syrups present no new features worthy of special notice. Raw Sugars are scarcely as strong, and some dealers incline to the belief that they will be cheaper within the next thirty days than at any time this winter.

SUGARS—Refined—Standard Hards, 13¾; A. 12¾; B. 12¾; Ex. C, 12¼; C. Yellow, 12⅛. Porto Rico Sugars—Choice, 11; Prime 10¾; Good, 10. Demarara, 11½@12. New Orleans—fair 10; good, 10½; prime, 11; choice, 11¾.

COFFEE—Fancy Rio, 26; Prime, 25; Good, 24. Fair, 23@23¾. Java, 28@30. Laguayra, 25@26. Mocha, 45. Roasted Coffee, pure, 28. Lower grades, 25@26.

SYRUPS—Havemyer & Elder's, 65. White Honey, 65. Lovering's, 60. Durant's, 65. Sugar Drips, 75; Brune's, 65; other grades, 48@60. New Orleans Molasses, old, 50. New crop, 62.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 9¾; Good, 8¾; Fair, 8¾. Rangoon, 8. Patna, 8¾.

SPICES—Pepper, 24. Allspice, 18. Cassia, 50. Cloves, 25. Nutmegs, $1.40.

HAY—Continues quiet, and, with a supply fully equal to the demand, prices are unchanged, notwithstanding navigation is still suspended. We continue to quote at $23@26 per ton, according to quality.

HONEY—Sales at 25@30 cts.

HOMINY—Sales at $4,50 per bbl to the trade and $5 in a jobbing way.

LARD OIL—No. 1 extra is quoted in a jobbing way at 85@87 cts; No. 2, 62@63.

MILL FEED—Is quoted in a jobbing way at $1,20@1,25 per cwt for Bran, $1,35@1,40 for coarse corn meal, $1,50@1,55 for coarse and $1,70@1,75 for fine middlings; $1,60@1,65 for chopped corn and oats and $1,90@2,00 for oil meal.

ONIONS—Small sales at $2,50@3,00 per bbl, according to quality.

POTATOES—The receipts continue light, but with a supply fully equal to present requirements, prices are unchanged—70@80 cts per bushel, for small lots in store.

POULTRY—Is steady at 13@14 for dressed Chickens, and 16@18 for Turkeys.

PROVISIONS—Plain Bacon Shoulders, 7; sugar cured shoulders, 8¾; ribbed sides, 8; short ribbed, 8¾; clear, 9; sugar cured hams, 12¾. Dried Beef, 16¾. Mess Pork, $14,50@15. Ham Sausage, 11. Lard: in tierces, 9¾ for steamed and 10 for kettle.

RAGS—Sales, 4@4¾ cts per lb.

SALT—Is quoted at $1,85 per bbl, by the car load, and $2 in a jobbing way.

SHAKER CORN—13@14 cts per lb.

SEEDS—There is rather more inquiry for both Clover and Timothy Seeds, and we can report sales, in small lots, at $6.50@6.75 for the former, and $3,75@4,00 for the latter. The receipts of Flaxseed continue very meagre, and we quote nominally at $1,75@1.80.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, February 15, 1872.

Trade continues very quiet and there is but little prospect of any immediate improvement. Crude is weak, but not quotably lower; $3,62¾ at Parker, or $4,12¾ delivered here. As noted in our last report, refiners generally are holding back, confident of a still further decline, and this accounts for the limited volume of business. Refined is quiet and unchanged; but little inquiry, and the offerings are light—for the time being, refiners are neither disposed to buy crude or sell refined. February is steady at 21¾@21¾; March, nominal at 22@22¾; April, 22¾@22¾.

River Intelligence.

The weather continues extremely cold and the wind is still from the north, not a very good omen for an early change. The river was about at a stand last evening with seven feet in the channel. The Monongahela river is frozen over again in the first and second pools; the Allegheny ice is as firm as ever.

Telegrams from Cincinnati yesterday report that the Belle Vernon was cut down and sunk by the ice on Wednesday night. Capt. Darragh telegraphs "that the water was up to the cabin floor on the starboard side; main deck out of water on the larboard. Think she can be raised." She is about five years old; is owned by Capt. Darragh and his father and George Norris, all of this city. Valued at $20,000 and insured for $13,333 in the following offices: Western, Citizens, M. & M. and Pittsburgh.

The Belle Vernon is reported as having had on board a large cargo of merchandise for the south on which there was an insurance in Cincinnati offices of from $80,000 to $100,000. She is said to lie in an easy position, in from 12 to 15 feet of water, and her freight is being taken out, though in a damaged condition.

The towboat George Lysle was considerably damaged by the ice at Logstown on Wednesday. Ten timbers are reported broken, and siphon pumps have to be employed constantly to keep her afloat.

Capt. Geo. Neeld, of the Western Insurance Co., was to have left for Cincinnati yesterday to look after the Belle Vernon, on behalf of the underwriters.

The following boats are partially loaded, and will leave as soon as the river opens, of which there is not much prospect at present: Messenger, for Nashville, and Wild Duck for St. Louis.

N. J. Bigley lost a barge of coal, at the head of Crow's island, on Wednesday.

The river is frozen over again at Cincinnati, making the third time this winter, an event, it is said, that never occurred at that place before.

It is said that the Monongahela river froze hard enough on Tuesday night to admit of pedestrians crossing on it on Wednesday.

—An Evansville paper says: Judge Gresham was very emphatic, on Saturday, in his denunciation of the bringing of petty suits against steamboats, in the United States District Court, and said they should be stopped. He said they were injurious to the city and disgraceful to the Court, and were tolerated nowhere else. If the steamboat men would go to work in concert, they could easily remedy the evil. The case of Captain Pancoast, mate of the Belfast, is a fair sample of many of the cases brought against steamboats and steamboatmen. Some of the rousters let a hogshead of tobacco roll into the river. The mate ordered the men to get it out quickly. One of the men hesitated about going into the water, when the mate gave him a shove and ordered him in peremptorily. The man went to the office and demanded and received his money, and went straightway and had a warrant issued against the mate for assault and battery, and the mate was required to give a bond of $250 for his appearance before the United States District Court. In order to save his bondsmen he was obliged to come by rail from New Orleans, losing two weeks' time, and incurring a heavy expense. After waiting here a week, he was required to enter into his personal recognizance to appear, hereafter, which he did, and left to meet his boat. This infamous system of outrage upon steamboatmen should at once be suppressed.

—The Cincinnati Gazette says of the sinking of the Waunita: The Waunita, sunk Monday by ice, will probably have to be wrecked. Her stern is badly broken in, and the water is up to the ladies' cabin. The cabin has been forced to one side. There is danger of her breaking in two. She is lying across the logway of Litherbury's shipyard, which prevents work on a boat which Mr. L. is building for a South American trade, and which must cross the gulf in May. The accident to the Waunita, it is believed, will delay the work two or three weeks.

—There is a large amount of corn and produce awaiting shipment southward from points between Hickman, Ky., and Memphis. Over 8,000 sacks are ready to go south from Memphis by the first boat able to take it.

—The St. Louis Democrat says: Next April Captain Thomas W. Rea will go to Pittsburgh to contract for two light boats for Red river for the Carter line.

—A dispatch from Evansville says it is supposed the gorge still holds out at Carrsville.

—The Belle Lee went into New Orleans last trip, it is reported, with $7,500 profit.

—The Allegheny Belle and barges arrived at Memphis yesterday with grain.

—The width of the Missouri river at Jefferson City is 3,641 feet.

—The Tom Jasper was hard aground at Island 26 yesterday.

Lime, White Lime and Plaster.

The attention of our readers is directed to the business card of Mr. Thos. P. Henderson, dealer in the above named limes, plaster, cement, &c., at 360 Penn street. Mr. Henderson informs us that he deals largely in this lime, and that it is superior in quality, gives better satisfaction, and produces the result to be accomplished in a manner that gives his lime and plaster a precedence which is, and has been attested by our contractors and manufacturers. It would be well to give Mr. Henderson a call and inspect his claims to the large share of patronage which is being liberally bestowed upon him.

Homestead for Sale.

The attention of the readers of the GAZETTE is directed to the advertisement of the sale of late Homestead of Mr. Wm. Haslett, Sr., deceased, located in Reserve township, and two miles from the Allegheny Market House. The farm is well known as being a most productive one and beautifully located. This will be a rare opportunity for investment, and is worthy of careful consideration by our capitalists. The investment can be considered as safe, if not a better one than has been offered this season. For terms or information apply to Mr. David Gregg, at No. 99 Wood street, or to Robert Aiken, Esq., near the brick mansion on the farm.

Printers' Ink.

We are pleased to announce that the establishment in our midst, under the firm name of "Diamond Ink Company," manufacturers of Printers' Ink, is destined to become a permanent and paying one. From the numerous commendatory notices and testimonials, we see every few days from those who are using this ink, and who speak decidedly in its favor, it cannot be otherwise. We have been using it steadily in our establishment for the past two months, and to substantiate all that is claimed for it, we have only to refer the printing fraternity to our well printed paper. Our pressman says, "It is clearer, and does more work than any ink he ever used."

Church Guild Lectures.

The Guild lecture last evening, by Wm. Bakewell, Esq., on the subject of Great Inventions, was one of the most able of this admirable course. As might have been supposed from the character of the lecture, it was replete with interest and valuable information, and the only disappointment felt was at its close, that there was no more to come.

Two new lectures have been added to the course, making in all four yet to be delivered, and we can safely advise all who wish to be entertained and instructed, not to fail to attend.

The lecture next Thursday on Steel will be given by one of our ablest citizens, and will be very instructive and full of useful facts.

"Banney" Williams.

Notices have appeared in the papers, of the arrest in this city of Mr. Sylvanus L. Williams, commonly, from childhood, called "Banney," charged with the larceny on Saturday night of $400 from Mr. Yost, a hotel keeper at East Brady. We learn to-day that Mr. Williams' arrest was made wholly on account of some personal resemblance to a young man who, on the night of the theft, was a lodger at Yost's, whereas he had never been at the house until taken there under arrest, when he was at once honorably discharged as "not the man." We have known young Williams from his early childhood, and although too generous and convivial for his own good, we have never heard his honor or integrity questioned. His family connections are of the highest respectability, and he marched with Sherman to the sea, not one in the army doing more willing and faithful service. It is greatly to be regretted that such a man should be the subject of such a mistake.

Suspicious Characters Arrested.

Last evening about nine o'clock Lieutenants Palmer and Hazen arrested, in a saloon on Liberty street, two men, giving their names as Wm. Berry and James Dugan, on suspicion of being professional thieves. When taken the men had in their possession a valise, containing lead-pencils, pens, mucilage, &c., which they were endeavoring to dispose of. They claimed to have bought the goods at McIlwaine's auction rooms, a few days since. The officers seem to know the men, and to have been looking for them for some time past.

—Since writing the above Lieutenant Palmer arrested John Lutz, with some of the stolen property on his person. The goods have been identified by the Superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company, as the property of that corporation. The men were committed to the Central Station House on charges of drunkenness and vagrancy, but informations for larceny will doubtless be made before the Mayor this morning.

Insulted the Preacher.

Alderman Koenig has had brought to his attention a case somewhat singular in its character. On Sunday, the 4th inst., while the pastor of a certain church in Ohio township, this county, in the exercise of his vocation as a minister of the Gospel of peace, was preaching to his flock, a man in the audience arose and began abusing the reverend gentleman, calling him vile names, &c. It seems that for some cause the fellow had taken a dislike to the preacher, and took this plan to wreak his vengeance upon his venerable head. The minister, like a true exponent of the doctrine which he promulgated, continued his discourse to the omega thereof, without seeming to notice the intended interruption. However, lest the heathen-like offense should be repeated, in perhaps an aggravated form, the minister came to the city yesterday, and made an information before 'Squire Koenig, charging the offender with having committed a breach of the peace. Monday next is the time set for a hearing in the case.

A Great Invention—Of Much Interest to the Oil Trade.

Yesterday at the Monongahela House, where it is on exhibition by the inventor and patentee, James I. Bard, Esq., we examined closely a new patent oil barrel which promises to work a revolution in the manner of oil shipment. The invention is a barrel made of sheet iron, of three pieces, the two heads and body of the barrel closely riveted together and perfectly air-tight. The machinery used in the manufacture is simple, being a cast-iron cylinder made to any dimension, according to the required size of the barrel, over which are a series of rolls, conformed to the configuration of the vessel. Then the heads are clamped and riveted. The seams are closely joined and the barrel is then ready for its purposes. It is lighter by many pounds than the ordinary wooden barrels, will withstand rough usage, has no hoops and never needs cooperage, and is a great economizer, permitting not a drop of oil to leak or evaporate. It is clean and easy to handle, and of course thoroughly fire-proof. We regard the invention as a very important and valuable one, and bespeak for it the examination of our oil dealers and refiners. The model is on exhibition at the sitting room of the Monongahela House, where the courteous inventor can be found to explain its merits and advantages.

The G. A. R. Fair at Old City Hall.

This noble effort of the friends of the widows and orphans of our lost soldiers will close to-morrow evening. This (Friday) evening, there will be an "Old Folks" Concert, for which some of our best home talent has been engaged, the participants to be in appropriate costume. Also, at 9 o'clock this evening the voting will close for the dressing gown, cane, and keg of wine. To-morrow evening at 9 o'clock, the voting will close for the wagon and harness, the cart and harness, the sword, sash and belt and for the gun. These exciting occasions are in addition to the fancy goods on the tables, the shooting gallery, gipsey camp, and other attractions, chief of which for hungry visitors, are the fine, really fine home-like dinners served every day. So many temptations should, when added to the incitement of the noblest object of all, make these two last days of the fair exceed all that have gone before in the rich harvest of proceeds. It is especially due to Mrs. Paisley, Mrs. West, Mrs. Haney and Miss Anna H. Murphy, who compose the Committee on Subsistence, that labors so arduous, persistent and so efficient, as theirs have been in this work of charity, should have special mention. We have noticed also that Mrs. Judge Stowe, Mrs. General Sweitzer, the Misses Houston, Misses Armstrong, Miss Pier, Miss Layton, Miss McKnight and many other ladies have been diligent and constant in their generous efforts to make the work a beneficent one for the widows and orphans. We hope they will all be made glad by an overflowing treasury on Saturday night.

Public Entertainments.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Last night M'lle Aimee and her comic French Opera troupe appeared for the first time in Pittsburgh. The opening opera was one of Offenbach's most famous, La Perichole, and the fame of the troupe, together with the popular character of the music, attracted a large audience, including many of the most elegant and fashionable of our ladies. Aimee, who played the title role, has a neat figure and a thoroughly French face, piquant and charming; her voice is good and her comic acting is perfectly irresistible, exciting constant storms of applause; and, in the drunken wedding scene, in the driving song "Hop la, hop la," as well as in the pathetic song "Je suis faible," eliciting hearty encores.

Mr. Fernand Noe, who played Pequillo, and Mr. Duchesne, who took the part of the Viceroy, shared the honors with the jolly little prima donna. Mr. Noe is, without doubt, one of the handsomest men we have ever seen on the stage, and as, in addition to his fine figure and beautiful face, he sings, dresses and acts well, it is not to be wondered at that he is a prime favorite wherever he goes. Mr. Duchesne is an excellent buffo, and acted in a very praise-worthy, and ridiculous manner.

None of the other members of the company were note-worthy. The gentlemen of the chorus were rather remarkably fine looking, and the ladies of the chorus were remarkable only for their lack of voice. The costumes were by no means fresh, and rather gave the impression that they were not the product of any of those French milliners whose taste is world renowned.

But there are drawbacks of some sort to everything, and our opinion of the comic opera as given by the Aimee troupe is that it is one of the most amusing and entertaining shows that we have ever had in Pittsburgh.

FIFTH AVENUE OPERA HOUSE.—The Florences continue to hold good houses, and only a very slight falling off was noticeable last evening. The refined, we can say, Irish drama of Eileen Oge, was performed even in better style than upon any previous representation. This evening Mr. and Mrs. Florence take a benefit, and we are confident that it will be a benefit, and such a one as the deserving artists are entitled to, by their careful and best of conception of refined Irish drama. Secure your seats early.

NEARING THE END.

The Vankirk-Johnson Matinee.

Continued Success of the Engagement—The Fourth Day—No Falling off in the Crowds—The Learned Counsel's Onslaughts on the Jury—Eloquence Wasted on the Desert Air—The Case to Finally Close To-day.

The little drama of "Vankirk vs. Johnson, or the Value of Plighted Troth," which has had such a successful run in the District Court for the past few days, again attracted to that quarter of the Temple of Justice an unusually large crowd yesterday morning. The attendance was possibly larger than at any time since the first ringing up of the curtain on the play, and certainly they who packed the lobbies and thronged the space inside the bar—yea even crowded up on the outer limits of the judicial bench—showed NO DIMINUTION OF THE EAGER INTEREST in the proceedings which seems to seize upon every spectator as he enters within the sacred portals of the apartment. The presence of such a large company did seem somewhat singular, in view of the fact that the evidence was all in, but the interest seemed then to center upon prospective spicy comments from counsel on the one side, and pathos and tears on the other. Howbeit, whatever may have been the impelling motive, there was an attendance which was only limited by the utmost capacity of the Court room.

A notable event in the morning session was the ABSENCE OF THE FAIR PLAINTIFF and her host of male and female retainers—an absence which caused many surmises, but was subsequently explained by the prosaic fact that they had missed the morning train coming from McKeesport. They were on hand promptly in the afternoon, and preserved the same quiet yet determined demeanor that has so uniformly characterized all since their introduction to the mysteries of the Court room. Johnson, "the meek-eyed country boy," was in his usual place and exhibited no evidences of unwonted excitement, manifesting about as much warmth, even under the most severe castigation from opposing counsel, as might be expected from an iceberg in January.

THE ADDRESSES OF COUNSEL occupied the attention of the Court from ten o'clock in the morning till half-past two in the afternoon, and yet the end was not reached. They were all lengthy, but no new line of argument was adopted from that already foreshadowed in the conduct of the trial. Col. R. M. Gibson, opened for the prosecution immediately upon the assembling of Court, and spoke for about an hour and a half, in support of the position taken by the plaintiff, that a contract for marriage had been entered into; that she fulfilled her part of the agreement and he failed in his; and that his simplicity, his exceeding bad memory and his subterfuges, were all so many side issues brought up by himself to avoid a sacred contract.

J. M. Kennedy Esq., followed for the defense speaking for half an hour and contending that JOHNSON HAD BEEN TRAPPED into the "match," that the whole proceeding from the thirtieth of June was one bold attempt at robbing Johnson of his liberty and his farm; and that Johnson never had made any engagement except on the condition that the consent of his mother could be obtained.

Court here took half an hour's recess and upon reassembling,

Mr. Marshall closed for the defense—a task which required two hours and occupied the attention of the court for the afternoon session. He adopted the same line of argument as his predecessor, but embellished and threw into it all those distinctive traits of oratory for which he is peculiar.

MR GIBSON'S "GOLDEN MEMORIES."

It would be impossible to give a review here of the addresses, but it may be said that in the expectation of something worth hearing, which was indulged in by the spectators, they were not disappointed. The speeches were remarkably fine efforts, and seemed to call forth all the resources of the learned counsel on either side. Possibly the brightest scintillation of Mr. Gibson's eloquence, was the passage wherein in his own peculiar manner, and with that wonderful flow of choice English, united to vivid imagery which characterize his happiest efforts, he referred to the "golden memories which clustered around the moment when the engagement ring was first produced." As a rhetorical flourish, beautiful in conception and admirable in diction, this was almost unapproachable. We are fain to admit however, with just a tinge of sorrow, that a lack of experience in such delicate matters prevents us from enthusiastically and conscientiously vouching for its truth; but it must be so—else why must several of the jury, evidently happy Benedicts, just at that precise moment, wave their red bandannas in such close proximity to suspiciously watery eyes.

MR. MARSHALL SEES A VISION.

Mr. Marshall, as usual, was humorous. His best point, so far as effect was concerned, was made just about the centre of his address, when he had occasion to picture Josiah's raiment—especially the delicate kid gloves.

"Just imagine him, gentlemen of the jury," said the eloquent advocate, "imagine that sturdy farmer boy coming in fresh from the plow, for a wedding, and donning on those hands a pair of yellow kid gloves; why gentlemen they'd have thought he was carrying a pair of Cincinnati hams."

There was a convulsive roar of laughter, spectators, lawyers, journalists and all joining in, and for a moment further proceedings were checked.

Judge Hampton—Stop, stop. We must have order here. I'll not allow such disgraceful scenes while I'm presiding here. If we have another scene of disorder like this I'll adjourn this Court, and to-morrow will not admit a single person but those directly interested in the case.

The rebuke had the desired effect; at least those who felt stirred up to merriment, withdrew elsewhere to indulge the propensity, and the counsel proceeded calmly with his address.

THE END TO-DAY—PERHAPS.

Mr. Marshall concluded about half-past two o'clock, and then, after a conference, it was decided to adjourn until this morning at ten o'clock, when J. W. F. White, Esq., will close the case for the plaintiff. It is probable Mr. White will make a lengthy address. It will be followed by the charge of the Court and the case will be finished to-day, save the verdict, and of that it would be idle to prophesy.

BURSTING OF A FLY-WHEEL.

Accident at the Clinton Mills—An Employee Severely Injured.

Yesterday morning an accident, which it is feared will be attended with fatal consequences, occurred at the Clinton Rolling Mills, Monongahela borough. The men in the nail mill attached to the works were engaged at work about half past six in the morning, when suddenly and without giving any premonitory symptoms of approaching dissolution, the great fly-wheel burst, scattering its fragments up through the roof, out at the door, and in all directions.

The wheel weighed about fifty tons, measured thirty-two feet in diameter, and was located near the boiler. At the time of bursting all the men were at work, but none were injured save the assistant engineer, Mr. John St. Clair. He was standing a few feet away, when one of the flying fragments struck him on the head, fracturing his skull. As quick as possible medical attendence was summoned, and Drs. McCook, Le Moyne, and Legge, rendered every possible assistance, but the injury was of such a character that but little hope was entertained of the man's recovery. His wife was sent for and attended him at the office of the mill—the physicians thinking it unsafe to have him removed.

Aside from this serious result, the proprietors of the mill, Messrs. Graff, Bennett & Co., will lose about $5,000 by the accident. The wheel, when examined last Monday morning, was in sound condition, and no cause can be assigned for its bursting.

—Since writing the above, death has resulted to the injured man. He breathed his last about five o'clock last evening. Coroner West having been summoned, held an inquest last night, and a verdict of accidental death was rendered.

The deceased was about thirty-six years of age, a native of England, had been in this country four years, and employed at the mill only three weeks, in the capacity of assistant engineer. He leaves a wife, with whom he had been boarding, for some time past, with the family of a Mr. Mitchell, in East Birmingham.

DARING ROBBERY.

The Window of a Pawn-Shop Broken In—The Clark Jewelry Again Changes Hands.

Last evening about nine o'clock a burglarious transaction of as daring a character as any of which we have had occasion to make mention for a long time, occurred on one of our principal thoroughfares. At the time mentioned, and before the store had been closed for the night, some one burst in the window of Mr. George Cohen's pawn-shop, on Smithfield street, between Seventh avenue and Liberty street, and a lightning-like movement, grabbed from the show-case just inside the window, jewelry to the value of about twelve hundred dollars. Mr. Cohen, with two other gentlemen were in the store at the time, and rushed to the door, in time to see the thief disappear on the opposite side of the street. It was supposed that he ran toward Seventh avenue, but when the men gained the corner of that thoroughfare, he was nowhere to be seen. It is considerd extremely mysterious in what direction the man could have bent his steps from the point last seen.

The jewelry taken consisted of the valuable set known as the Clark jewelry—being that left by Mrs. Clark, who committed suicide at the Union Depot Hotel some time since, and afterward purchased by Mr. Cohen at auction —and another very valuable diamond pin, the whole valued, as we before stated, at about $1,200.

The thief evidently knew at the time of the act what he was reaching for, as a number of watches and other valuable jewelry were in the window, and much nearer the aperture made for the purpose of admitting the man's hand than were the articles taken. The natural inference from the circumstances would be that either the gems were familiar to him, or he was a rare expert in the detection of diamonds of the purest water. The detectives are at work on the case.

Jewelry, Watches, Clocks and Optical Goods, and Where to Purchase.

Those of our readers living outside the city and who occasionally come to town to make purchases in the way of jewelry and watches will thank us for recommending to them the responsible house of Haslett & Kennedy, No. 79 Smithfield street, as no where else in Pittsburgh can they secure better treatment or be dealt with in a more honorable manner. Their stock is large and varied in all departments and so wide in range that selection from it must be an easy matter. The firm are the agents for this section for the sale of all the standard American Watch Companies and are enabled to sell any style of a time piece for ladies or gentlemen, in gold or silver cases at manufacturers' rates and warranted. Mr. Kennedy of the firm is a practical watchmaker, having had some thirty years' experience in the art and he attends skillfully and carefully to watch repairing of all descriptions, being one of the very few jewelers who thoroughly understand this branch of the business. The firm deals in the best qualities of jewelry, keeping no "pinchbeck" in their cases. Their stock of silver plated goods, gold headed canes, stationery clocks, musical boxes and coin silver goods cannot be surpassed. In the optical department of this first class house will be found spectacles of the most desirable quality, eye glasses, opera and spy-glasses, etc., and to these we refer our readers in need of any such articles. The prices of this house are proverbially low and reasonable, and we assure our readers that they can deal no where else in this city or any other city to better advantage.

THE CHURCHES AND TEMPERANCE.

The Allegheny Temperance War—The Citizens Assemble to Express Their Views—Mr. Ross Endorsed—A Vigilance Committee Appointed and the War to be Pushed Forward Vigorously.

The good people of the Fifth and Sixth wards, Allegheny—where the temperance champion, Mr. W. B. Ross, has been operating lately—assembled in respectable numbers last evening in the Union M. E. Church, corner of Manhattan street and Pennsylvania avenue, to consider the measures which Mr. Ross has inaugurated for the suppression of the liquor traffic in that locality. A noticeable feature of the audience was the large number of ladies in attendance which gave to the gathering a new attraction, and as indicative of the feeling in that section of the community, possibly gave renewed encouragement to the warriors.

The meeting was organized at eight o'clock when on motion Rev. Dr. I. N. Baird, pastor of the church was called upon to preside and Mr. W. H. Phelps chosen Secretary.

After this preliminary proceeding,

Mr. Henry Warner moved the appointment of a Committee on Resolutions. The motion was carried and Messrs. H. Warner, R. H. Knox and Thomas Jones appointed.

CHRISTIANS TO BLAME.

While the committee were out deliberating Rev. Dr. Baird was called upon and made a brief address, in which he said church-going people were, in a large measure, to blame for the lamentable state of affairs in a temperance way. They manifest no earnest zeal in the cause, and not alone by voice, but by their votes frequently express their indiffence in relation to the whole subject. This had often surprised him, in view of the fact that the liquor traffic was the greatest antagonism that the church had to encounter, for from it flowed nearly all the evils of the age. He did not favor, as some did, a political crusade exclusively against the liquor traffic, but believed that in business and social life, in the church and in politics all good men should manifest their opposition to anything that tended to directly or indirectly increase the liquor traffic.

The speaker also took occasion to refer to the bill now before the Legislature, and characterized it as A HYBRID PRODUCTION, emanating from a compromise of temperance men and liquor dealers. It had a few good features, but in its practical workings would do more harm than good. He didn't believe in such half-way measures. What was wanted was Radicalism—outspoken, earnest Radicalism. [Applause.] He hoped the efforts that had already been put forth would be practically endorsed and followed by still greater efforts in the future.

Rev. Mr. Hudson, of the Baptist Church, believed that the Christian Church should take higher grounds in this matter than it had done before. There was too great a disposition to compromise. If the Bible taught anything, it TAUGHT TOTAL PROHIBITION. How then could Christians directly or indirectly give their support to this vice. Christian were direlect in duty in signing applications for licenses, but more so in not exercising the right of suffrage to check the traffic. If they went nobly to the polls and did their duty there would be a great change before long. He was opposed to the whole licensing system. A father would not license a druggist to sell arsenic to his child? But this liquor traffic was worse than that. He favored total prohibition and no compromise.

Mr. Warner, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, now presented their report, prefacing it with the explanation that the committee had thought it best to view the matter in a legal aspect, than to originate any new idea upon the subject. The report was as follows:

THE RESOLUTIONS.

WHEREAS, Recent developments in this community have made apparent the fact that we have in our midst a class of men engaged in the liquor traffic, who violate the laws of this Commonwealth by selling liquor to minors, habitual drunkards, and on the Sabbath day; Therefore, be it

Resolved, First—That we call on all good and law-abiding citizens to aid in executing the laws against those who violate them.

Second—That a committee, to consist of ten or more, be appointed to take cognizance of such cases, which committee shall be empowered to collect money, obtain legal advice, and do all and such business as shall be proper to the carrying out of these resolutions.

Third—That we give our unqualified approval to the efforts that have been and are now being made to enforce the license laws now in force, holding that all men should have full protection in following their lawful avocations, as well as that prompt justice should be meted out to those who transgress the law.

Fourth—That we specially and earnestly call the attention of the churches to the present state of affairs, believing much good could be done from the pulpit, by warning their members of the danger that exists of the continued, common and open desecration of the Sabbath, and to look well to the fact that they by their votes help to elect none to office who will not fairly and fearlessly execute the laws.

The first resolution was adopted.

Mr. Trimble wanted to hear from Brother Dill.

Mr. W. F. Dill—The reason I kept quiet was because the resolutions pleased me, and that's the best speech I can make. [Laughter.]

DON'T NEED LAWYERS.

Mr. S. A. Johnston, a member of the Pittsburgh Bar, wanted to know what they wanted to employ counsel for, as intimated in the second resolution.

Mr. R. H. Knox said it had been found necessary in several instances to employ counsel in conducting the cases, and it was desirable that the committee have this power.

Mr. Johnston thought they didn't need to pay for that, it was the District Attorney's business. He would give them all the counsel needed. It was his business and would cost nothing. He also was opposed to going too far; it would only aggravate the liquor men and their friends and excite them against their neighbors. He thought the best way was to enforce the law in requiring the ward constable to report the liquor dealers to the District Attorney, and then let him prosecute. There would be less trouble in this way than any other.

"FIGHTING THE DEVIL."

Mr. George R. Cochran differed with his colleague. If they had to fight the devil he believed in fighting him squarely. [Laughter]. There were not half a dozen saloon keepers in the county who lived up to the law, and the trouble was that the people were not stirred up. It was not so however in Manchester for there one Moses had been raised up and was doing his duty. [Applause]. It was impossible to have those cases attended to unless some persons made it their special business to endure the odium of the liquor dealers and have them prosecuted. The appointment of the committee was the only way to get at it.

Mr. Fred. Luty said the District Attorney had enough to do without hunting all over Manchester for those people who violated the laws. He thought the best way was to refer the matter to the committee and let them push the work.

Mr. Johnson held that it was the duty of the ward constable to report to the District Attorney.

"HOW THE OLD THING WORKS."

Mr. Roland D. Jones thought it "no use going to law with the devil while the court was in hell." The speaker knew of a case where a poor man from the Ninth ward had made an information against a tavern keeper for selling liquor on Sunday. The matter came up before the Grand Jury, and he swore positively that the offense had been committed to his own personal knowledge. And there was a man on that jury who "fixed" the matter up—not withstanding all the toil of the man who made the information, and the poor fellow was "socked" into a bill of $14.50. [Laughter.]

As for the constables reporting, the speaker had an example of how that worked. In that ward, when the constable was required to make his return, he was too drunk to do it, and had to be returned himself for drunkenness. [Laughter.] The speaker believed this committee was the best method of getting at the business.

THE "ROSS" FINE.

Mr. W. F. Dill said they needed money now. An instance of where it might go was seen in a matter with which all there were familiar. A few days ago Mr. Ross was fined $50 by the Chief Magistrate for talking no louder than he was then talking. With such a state of affairs, they needed money to push the work and protect their workmen.

Mr. Johnston—Is this money to pay Mr. Ross' fine? If so, I'll vote heartily against the resolution.

Mr. Ross—I have borne the toil thus far as I expect to bear my expenses. I don't want anything from this meeting. I am glad to hear that the gentleman is a temperance man and that he is so full of expedients to stop this traffic. But he don't provide means. We all know how magnanimously the work has gone on under the management of such men. We all know that the liquor traffic is on the increase daily, and we must take vigorous action if we want to accomplish anything. Many of us well know that if these saloons were not kept open on Sunday, their license would not be worth anything; they admit that themselves. Children can get liquor if they can only get a five cent piece to pay for it. Now, the citizens must take the matter in their own hands. The officers who have been elected by the rum-sellers have proved recreant to their trust. And even those criminals who have been committed get off by being pardoned out.

THE COMMITTEE.

At the closing of his remarks a vote was taken and the second resolution adopted. The third and fourth were also similarly approved.

Mr. Patterson moved that Mr. S. A. Johnston be appointed a committee of one to prosecute all liquor dealers who adulterated their liquors. [The gentleman indicated having intimated that this was the legal way to stop a great deal of the traffic.] The motion was carried.

The chair then announced the appointment of the following Committee on Vigilance:

Wm. B. Ross, Simeon Bulford, Samuel McCune, Thomas Jones, Joseph Kirkpatrick, R. H. Knox, James Campbell, Wm. F. Dill, Rot. Lea, Thomas Harper, Wm. Blakely.

After some further discussion of an informal character the meeting adjourned.

Church Fairs and Festivals.

It is so common for religious societies needing money for religious purposes to resort to the expedient of Fairs and Festivals as a means for raising it, and so rare that any one has resorted to the press to prevent, if possible, the success of a Fair, organized and conducted in the interests of a Christian Church, that we deem it but right to publish the following expose of one of these anomalous attacks on a Methodist Fair, now in progress at Sharpsburg.—EDS.

SHARPSBURG, February 15, 1872.

EDITORS GAZETTE: "P. Kidd," of Sharpsburg, appears to feel sore about exceptions being taken to his views of how people should conduct themselves and tells us in the Evening Leader of the 14th that for this reason he does not puff up the "so-called Ladies Fair of the Methodist Protestant Church, now in the wane of a very sickly existence," which is anything but true, as your correspondent is one of the committee to take account of the receipts, which have averaged over one hundred dollars a night for some time past, with a fair prospect of doing better for some time to come. If he calls that sickly, we want more of the same kind of sickness. As to the games he speaks of, if he will attend and see for himself, he will not feel so much hurt. If he will come out and sign his name like a man to his article, we will refund all that has been successfully bored out of him, with interest. As to the sufferers in the Church, he speaks of, if he acted in a Christian spirit and give us their names we will have their wants attended to: he says: "we are glad the Fair will soon close, and hope it will stay closed." This hope is no doubt felt, as the success of the fair is painful to him as a thorn in a tender place, penetrating deeper and deeper as the fair prospers more and more. And as to meddling with the "outside barbarians," as he calls them, we have no inclination, as we have more congenial business to attend to. Black mailing a religious denomination is a dirty business. Every vessel should stand on its own bottom and not on P. Kid, Aaron Burr, and such like, as we supposed they had all passed out of existence long since. We hope Mr. Kid will stop his black mailing and come out and show his colors.

A GENTLEMAN from McKeesport, who was met by a friend at the Court House yesterday, stated that he came to Pittsburgh to find somebody to talk to, the little town up the river having been almost entirely deserted.

"A WRITER in our cotemporary of the Cincinnati Commercial" is the way the Pittsburgh Post puts it. We are aware that Halstead sometimes "chaws up" a newspaper writer, but we didn't know that he had ever swallowed one.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WE regret to announce this morning the death of the estimable and much beloved wife of Wm. J. Anderson, Esq., which took place at the family residence, in Allegheny, yesterday. The deceased was a most intelligent, kind-hearted and generous Christian lady, whose early death will be deeply regretted and sincerely mourned by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

CAPTAIN JAMES B. EADS, of St. Louis, is in the city on a visit to the various steel works. He is the engineer of the great railroad bridge of that city, and expects to purchase the steel from our manufacturers with which to erect it. He is uninversally recognized as one of the foremost civil engineers of the times, and his fame is not confined to our country, but is known throughout Europe.

POLICE NOTES.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. John Baer alias Smoker, on a charge of robbery, preferred by Mrs. Martha Aikers, has at last reached the end of its first stage. A final hearing was had yesterday afternoon before the Mayor, which resulted in the committal of the accused for trial at Court, in default of $1,000 bail. It will be remembered that informations were made some time since against Henry alias "Pidgey" Lloyd, John McCullough and John Baer, charging them all with being implicated in the same affair—the first two named being arrested and committed for trial about a week since. In this case John Coyle represented the Commonwealth, John McCarthy appearing on behalf of the defendant.

We gave the particulars, in yesterday's GAZETTE, of the cannibalistic attack of Patrick Carney upon John Nichols, the result of which was the loss of the upper lip of the latter. Yesterday morning an information was made before the Mayor, charging Carney with mayhem. The accused had a hearing, and was committed for trial, in default of $3,000 bail.

The Mayor disposed of twelve common cases yesterday morning, but not a single one at the evening hearing.

Officer Martin Hazeln yesterday made an information before the Mayor, charging J. P. Dougherty with keeping a disorderly house on Webster avenue. A warrant was issued.

Chief of Police Irwin yesterday received a dispatch from the authorities at Erie, requesting him to apprehend one Harry Boone, who, it was supposed, would arrive in this city on the Erie express. The dispatch stated the man had been arrested and held in bail for trial on a charge of seduction, and had subsequently taken French leave. A man answering the description given in the dispatch was arrested upon the arrival of the train mentioned, and lodged in the Central Station-House, to await further orders.

Alderman Moreland yesterday committed John Watkins to jail for trial, on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Daniel McKnight. It is alleged that a poker was made the instrument whereby Watkins wreaked his vengeance upon the defenceless head of McKnight.

CO-OPERATION.

Meeting of Mill Men Last Evening—A Co-operation Rolling Mill Proposed at Tarentum.

In accordance with a call issued yesterday morning, a meeting of rolling mill hands was held last evening at No. 369 Liberty street, to discuss the practicability and advisability of forming a co-operative company of workingmen, with a view to starting a rolling mill at the borough of Tarentum.

The meeting was presided over by C. A. Burroughs, Esq., who, in brief terms explained the object of the meeting. It appears that a communication on the subject, which appeared in the GAZETTE some days ago had produced much thought and some action, and now it was deemed that the time had arrived when definite steps might be taken toward starting the enterprise. It was announced that the citizens of Tarentum offered to raise $50,000 and give ten acres of what is known as the Breckinridge farm as a location.

It was also announced that the property contiguous to that where it was proposed to locate the mill would be assessed at its present value, and that an amount equal to that accruing from the enhancement of the value of the property, on account of such location, should also be devoted to the object. It is confidently asserted that $25,000 worth of stock will be taken by our mill men here, so soon as the matter assumes a definite shape, which time, from present indications, is in the near future.

PHILIP HOER, P.M.

The Water Commission did not meet yesterday, but a great many young gentlemen met at the fashionable tailoring establishment of Urling, Follansbee & Co., Fifth avenue, where they were engaged in supplying themselves with wearing apparel from one of the best assortments ever seen in the city.

RIVER TELEGRAMS.

We learn from Logstown that the new tow boat George Lyle, Captain Marthens, has sunk in ten feet water, and lost all her barges, ten in number. The ice gorge at Brunot cut her down, and she is lying in a very bad condition. We could not ascertain full particulars at time of going to press.

CINCINNATI, February 15.—River twenty feet; stationary. Ice is floating by. The river is nearly clear. There is a prospect of the resumption of navigation to-morrow. The Major Sanders, a Government survey boat, was cut down just below the suspension bridge and sunk this afternoon. Her cabin is half full of water. A dozen or more coal barges just below the bridge broke loose, and two or three were lost. The Belle Vernon has been turned over to the underwriters, who are wrecking her. Freight is being removed from the Nashville.

MEMPHIS, February 15.—Clear and pleasant. River rising steadily. Departed—Jno. T. Tatte, St. Louis; Commonwealth, Longworth and John Yeager, New Orleans.

CAIRO, February 15.—Arrived—Illinois, New Orleans, 4 P. M; Joe, 6; Fleming and Cotton Wood, 4; Quickstep, Evansville, 6. No departures. River risen 7 inches. Cloudy, thermometer 44.

EVANSVILLE, February 15.—Clear and pleasant; mercury 15 to 36. River risen 1 foot; full of ice. Up—Ada Hellman, 9 A. M.; Leclaire, 11; J. W. Garrett and barges, 1:30 A. M.; Mary McDonald, B. H. Hunt and Fayette, 9; Mollie Ebert, 2 P. M.; Boaz and barges, 4; Dick Johnson, 5. Down—Bowling Green, 2 P. M.; Idlewild, 5; Kate Robinson, 4. Freight abundant. Business very active.

NEW ORLEANS, February 15.—No arrivals. Departed—James Howard and John Kyle, St. Louis; Kate Kinny, Cincinnati. Clear and cool.

VICKSBURG, February 15.—Down—Mary Miller, 8 last night. Boats down to-day—Sallie No. 2, 7 A. M.; Allegheny Belle and barges, 4 P. M.; Chas. Bodman, 6. Cool. River rising.

LOUISVILLE, February 15.—River declined; 6 feet 6 inches in canal; 4 feet 6 inches in chute. Milder; mercury 33; ice running heavy. A coal boat belonging to the Jas. Coot, containing about 20,000 bushels, was cut down by the ice last night at Jeffersonville, and is a total loss. About 150 yards of the outer end of Weitzel's dam, at the head of the falls, between the falls and the end of the chute, was swept away by the ice.

FIRE IN ALLEGHENY.

A Green-house Partially Destroyed.

Yesterday morning about four o'clock a fire broke out in the new green-house of Messrs. Hiland, King & Co., corner North and Cedar avenues, Allegheny. The firemen were called out, but notwithstanding all their efforts, the building was almost totally destroyed, together with the greater portion of the stock of plants and flowers on hand.

The building had been completed about three weeks ago, and was very complete for the purpose. It was valued at about $3,700, which together with the stock, valued at about $3,500 will make the loss pretty heavy. The firm have an insurance for $1,500 in the Teutonia, of Allegheny. They propose to rebuild as soon as the weather will permit, and in the meantime will endeavor to prevent any serious interruption to their business.

The origin of the fire is unknown, as the watchman was on duty until two o'clock in the morning, and everything was then in proper order.

THE OIL CASE.

The Argument Yesterday.

The argument in the case of Owston & Sowers vs. The Allegheny Valley Railroad Company was taken up yesterday morning before Judge Stowe.

Mr. Hampton, for the defendant, opened the argument and spoke for over two hours, occupying all the time of the morning session.

In the afternoon Mr. Acheson followed for the plaintiff, the session being given up to him.

Court adjourned at the usual hour, His Honor announcing that he would deliver the charge to the jury this morning.

THE N. Y. Commercial Advertiser says: Our benevolence and kindness of heart are sorely taxed to resist the appeal of our English cousins to help them rebuild Warwick Castle. We would like to do it—they know we would—and yet we can't. Lord Warwick's "sitting-room" and Lady Warwick's "boudoir" will have to languish in undistinguishable ruin yet awhile, so far as we are concerned. We may want all our cash for something more important than putting up new walls in Warwick Castle, viz: for putting a "mansard roof" upon Old England herself. Should any accident of this kind come about, it will require all our spare cash to meet the consequences.

AN American, who happened to be in the south of France during the recent extreme cold weather, astonished the natives by appearing on the ice with a pair of skates. People flocked from the neighborhood for miles and lined the shores by thousands to witness the novel sight of his evolutions.
